WALLSTREET DAY'S STOCK PRICE TREND IRREGULAR

Fears of Another Credit Stringency Over the Year-End Has Restraining Effect on Trading.

NATIONAL BELLAS IS FEATURE STOCK

Few Rails and Specialties Marked Up by Pools—General Motors Rebounds After Decline.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Fears of another credit stringency over the year-end has had a restraining effect on trading in today's stock market, which moved irregularly lower. A few rails and specialties were marked up 3 to nearly 24 points at one period on pool buying, but the general list was under selling pressure most of the day, several of the extreme declines ranging from 4 to nearly 10 points.

Call money renewed at 7 and dropped to 6 but the ease in rates is expected in banking circles to continue only a day or two longer with a strong likelihood of another flurry to 12 or 15 per cent, possibly higher, before the end of the year. Time money and commercial paper rates continued firm. With the bulk of brokers' loans now made for the "account of others," Wall Street fears that the heavy withdrawal of these funds from the year-end readjustments might temporarily impair the volume of credit available.

"Tax Selling" Factor.
So-called "tax selling" between now and the end of the year is another factor to be taken into consideration, but funds thus obtained are expected to come back into the market after the turn of the year. Wall Street also is counting on an unusually heavy reinvestment demand early next month but much of this is likely to be absorbed by new bond and stock offerings.

Except for the gathering of war funds in South America, there was little in the week-end news to influence the price movement. Commodities were advanced 10 cents a barrel.

Secretary of Commerce Whiting was quoted today as saying that business is in a very healthy condition and that no sign of any recession is seen.

National Bellas Hess Feature.
National Bellas Hess common stock, rising 23 1/2 points to a new high record of 18 1/2, while the preferred moved up 5 points to a new high at 11 1/2. Western Pacific common and preferred also were in demand, the former touching a new high at 38.

Violent fluctuations continued in the high priced specialties. Radio, Wright Aeronautical, International Nickel, Packard Motors, A. M. Byrd, De Pont and Curtiss Aeroplane sold 2 to nearly 10 points, but good recoveries were made in a few cases. International Telephone, Western Union and Greene Canyon Copper sold down 4 points, or more at one period or other, and a long list of others reacted 1 to 3 points below Saturday's final quotations.

Bear sharpshooters uncovered a new soft spot in the farm implement group in the late afternoon. When bull traders were endeavoring to rush up a few individual stocks to influence sentiment, International Harvester (old) fell 1 1/2 points and Advance Rumely 5 American International, Granby Copper and Standard Sanitary Manufacturing were among those that exhibited marked strength. General Motors made up nearly all its 2 1/2 points decline.

The stock market displayed a heavy loss at the opening today. Most opening losses were fractional save for a three-point drop in International Telephone and Telegraph. Selling of this issue was attributed to the looming of war clouds in South America. However, Atlantic Coast Line and General Railway Signal opening gains of 2 and 1 points, respectively.

Men From 30 Nations Gather at Kitty Hawk to Pay Tribute to Wrights

THOUGHT WRIGHT BROTHERS CRAZY BUT HARMLESS

By the Associated Press.
KITTY HAWK, N. C., Dec. 17.—Apt. William J. Tate, lighthouse keeper, who was host to the Wright brothers during the period of their epoch-making experiments in flying 25 years ago, said today: "When the Wrights arrived in our community we just thought they were a couple of crazy nuts who thought they could fly. We believed in a good God, a bad devil, and a hot hell, and more than anything else we thought that the same good God did not intend man should ever fly."

ARGUMENT ON DRY LAW WHEN SENATE DISCUSSES FUND

Harris of Georgia Opposes Act of Conference in Striking Out Provision for $270,000,000 Budget

MEASURE STRUCK OUT OVER PROTEST

Walsh Wants Law to Bar Drinking, and Bruce Agrees It Would Be Consistent Action.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The first real prohibition argument of the session broke in the Senate today over the action of conferees of the House and Senate in striking from the Treasury-Forest Service appropriation bill an item of more than $270,000,000 for dry law enforcement.

The exchange began when Senator Harris (Dem., Ga.) opposed approval of the conference report which recommended restoration of $13,500,000 to enforce prohibition in place of the larger figure voted by the Senate a few days ago.

Senators Bruce of Maryland, Caraway of Arkansas and McKellar of Tennessee, Democrats, argued for a large appropriation and charged the administration with having no wish to enforce the liquor laws.

The Senate, however, agreed to the conference report eliminating the Bruce amendment increasing the fund to more than $270,000,000.

The report was accepted by a vote of 38 to 35, a sharp row between wets and dries. The vote was almost on straight party lines, with Democrats opposing the conference action. Many dries urged acceptance of the amendment, which was put into the bill by a wet, Senator Bruce.

Urges Big Enough Fund. Harris declared too little money had been made available for enforcement. Senator Caraway asserted sufficient funds should be appropriated so "the administration will have no alibi," and McKellar said he favored large appropriations so that "we can see whether this administration is joking."

"Isn't it true," McKellar said, directing his conversation to Caraway, "that many good people voted the Republican ticket last fall?"

"No, no, no, not good people," Senator Caraway interposed.

"Well, many excellent but misguided people," McKellar continued, "because they thought they were voting the country dry."

Caraway replied in the affirmative and added: "If we have got to have prohibition we ought to enforce it. I believe there has been no enforcement because the administration does not believe in it. I believe it is a good thing to try to enforce it. If it requires $200,000,000, let us appropriate it so as to give them no opportunity to alibi."

Suggests Inquisition Tactics. "But if the administration has the courage to enforce it and gets the money, won't the law be enforced?" Senator McKellar asked.

Bruce, who had sat silent during the debate, declared at this juncture that the law could be enforced as the Inquisition had enforced laws in old Spain.

"But," he shouted, "at the price of what liberty?"

Declaring there were "a few members of this body who have never touched a drop of liquor," Bruce declared that the unwillingness of the majority of members of the Senate to "face any of the political risks they may be called upon to face if they did anything by vote or vote to abrogate the good will of the prohibition fanatics of this country."

Patting the shoulder of Senator Sheppard (Dem., Tex.), author of the eighteenth amendment, Bruce said there were "many sincere prohibitionists here." He called Sheppard "my dear friend."

Would Make Drinking Illegal. Senator Walsh (Dem.), Massachusetts, suggested that it be made an offense to take a drink of liquor. Bruce agreed that would be consistent, but he didn't believe such a law could be enacted under the eighteenth amendment.

Bruce declared that although he opposed prohibition he would rather see it enforced than witness "the present disgraceful conditions."

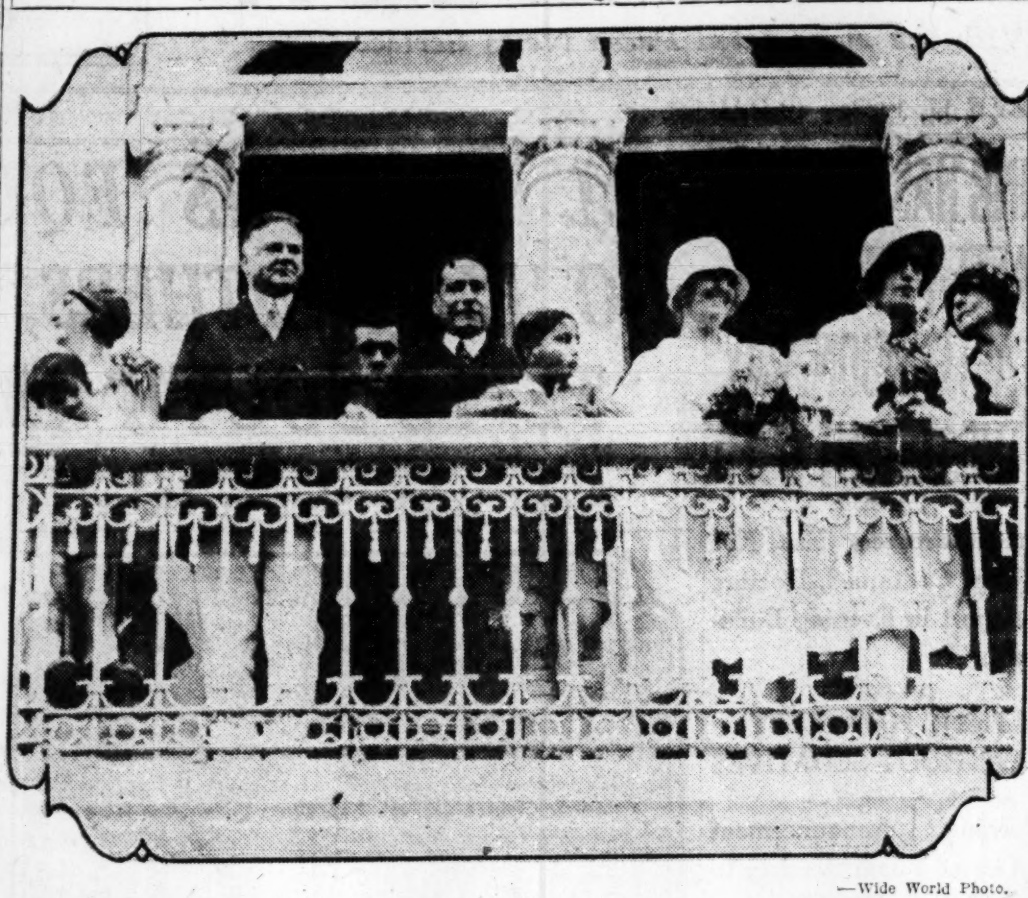

"The country reeks with crime," he said. "Never were more robbers, thieves and radicals in evidence."

He said he offered his proposal to "lay the groundwork for an oppressive system under which prohibition could be enforced." He assailed the Michigan law under which life imprisonment is imposed for four violations of the liquor laws.

"There was that poor old cove of a woman with 10 children sent to prison for life," he said. "That law is a disgrace to the State of Michigan. At the same time we learn of the arrest of corrupt customs officials at Detroit."

Referring to the recent campaign, Bruce said religious hatred had played a part in it and "wounds were inflicted which I fear will not heal in generations." He closed by predicting that "tyrannical" pressure would be exerted on Congress by the new alliance of dry organizations known as the National Conference of Organizations Opposed to Repeal of the Prohibition Amendment.

Sheppard then read a statement of prohibition enforcement last year which he said showed 75,037 arrests, sentences totaling 5,631,000 years and fines totaling $7,039,109. Senator Edge (Rep., N. J.), New Jersey, asked if he thought the increased arrests due to lack of enforcement or greater violation, but the Texas said he wasn't prepared to say.

ations for Sandino, the Nicaraguan irregular leader, and for Sacco and Vanzetti.

Discussing the incident today, the Chief of Police said that five or six local radicals had been detained for stationing themselves in front of Government House and shouting: "Viva Sacco, Vanzetti!"

He asserted that this should not be considered as a serious matter or construed as meaning any danger for Hoover, adding that reports of Communist plots and demonstrations were unfounded.

"A few local radicals shouted vivas for Sandino and Sacco and Vanzetti in the streets last night, and that is all that happened," he said.

"The people of Uruguay and of Montevideo are entirely ignorant that Mr. Hoover is here. We have been and are friends of the United States and hail Mr. Hoover and his good will mission wholeheartedly. It is a great mistake, if a handful of irresponsible persons representing nobody but themselves, can by street shows be allowed to create the impression of a demonstration against Mr. Hoover."

Members of the Hoover official party also felt that no importance should be attached to the affair.

Nevertheless, the Government, as well as the municipal authorities, desiring to take every precaution, have thrown cordons of mounted police around the hotel where Hoover is staying. Plainclothes men also mingled with the crowds in the lobbies and corridors.

Hoover has his quarters in an entire upper floor, where today he received distinguished callers. The entire scene was extremely picturesque as visitors constantly arrived, while police in plumed helmets and gay uniforms gave a touch of color.

This morning members of the American colony and other English-speaking residents called at one of the large gambling casinos in the city.

Outside, across terraces and a broad, palm-lined beach dotted with bathers. It is the time of summer holiday here.

After the informal reception to Americans, Hoover received officials of the Government in continuation of the program of calls and formal receptions which were destined not to end until after the official banquet here tonight.

Money Official Calls.

Hoover was whisked through the streets at high speed under police guard as he made three official calls on Government buildings during the forenoon. Welcomed to the Departmental Council by its President, Hoover expressed appreciation for the greeting and explained that he had come in order that he might inform himself better of the problems of the sister republics.

"The fact that you have built so large and beautiful a city in so short a time shows all the vitality of your people and the ability of your country," he said. "I want my country to be better informed about your nation."

The President-elect was welcomed to the National Council of Administration—the other half of the executive department under the unusual dual form of administration in Uruguay—and said that he had been much interested in the council's part in the Uruguayan Government. "You have here a new experiment in government," he said. "You have contributed much to the sacred ideals of self-government."

Then President Cavilla of the Council presented to him a copy of the Uruguayan Constitution especially prepared for the occasion.

At the National Palace. Before returning to his hotel for lunch with the President, Hoover spent nearly an hour inspecting the beautiful National Palace. The structure which is now nearing completion has been building for 12 years. It cost $15,000,000 and it is reputed to be one of the finest buildings of its kind in the Americas.

The Hoover party visited the Senate chamber, which is much like the United States Supreme Court room except that it has a more lofty ceiling, with skylights and beautiful decorations. The Chamber of Deputies also was visited.

This is smaller but far more ornate than the House of Representatives in the United States.

It was explained to Hoover that 25 kinds of native marble went into the construction of the palace, which covers an entire block. All the work was done by native artisans.

A few persons greeted the President-elect as he spent more than an hour making his forenoon visit to the National Palace. There was some greeting from men and women and a few shouts of "Viva Sandino!"

Hoover was greeted by enthusiastic crowds after his arrival last night from Buenos Aires.

He is expected to have time here to present the viewpoints of the United States on many subjects of interest to the Americas and their future relationship before leaving here for Rio de Janeiro tomorrow.

President-elect Hoover will give a dinner in Mr. Hoover's honor tonight.

Hoover came to Montevideo on the Argentine cruiser Buenos Aires, which, after a cruise of 10 days, was fired from the guns of Cerro Fort and the Uruguayan cruiser Montevideo.

Foreign Minister Rufino Dominguez welcomed Hoover when the cruiser docked and escorted him down the gangway, which was decorated with the Stars and Stripes. The President of Uruguay was waiting on the pier with members of his family and expressed his pleasure at the visit.

Hoover spent the night at the Parake Hotel. One wing of the hotel contains the casino of Montevideo where roulette and other games of chance are operated under Government monopoly. This is one of the largest gambling casinos in the world.

Sends Message to Irigoyen. On his way here, Hoover sent this message to President Irigoyen of Argentina:

"I carry happy recollections of your country and its people. The wonderful progress made by the Argentine republic of which I had read, has been fully confirmed during this memorable visit to your favored country, but the generous hospitality, courtesy and high culture of its people had not been adequately described. While still enjoying the hospitality of the Cruiser Buenos Aires which Your Excellency so kindly placed at my disposal for the voyage to Montevideo, I cannot fail to ask you again to accept the sincerest thanks of my colleagues, my wife, and myself for all that has been done to make the visit to Argentina an unforgettable episode in our lives. I beg you, Mr. President, also to extend our thanks to your distinguished colleagues and to the members of your family."

"It is a source of deep satisfaction to have had this opportunity of discussing with Your Excellency in a frank and friendly manner the forces in progress to create a new 'I live countries. I believe that from this visit and from our interchanges of ideas, there will result a better understanding of the problems facing each of us."

Accept Mr. President, my best wishes for your own health and success and for the continued happiness of the administration over which Your Excellency presides."

Leaves Tomorrow for Rio. Newspapers welcomed Hoover in eulogistic terms. Several pages were given to his biography, anecdotes concerning him, and summaries of his achievements as head of the war relief administration.

Photographs of the President-elect and Mrs. Hoover also were printed. El Dia said the Hoover trip was one of fraternity and would also benefit equally the United States and South American democracies.

Leaving on the U. S. S. Utah, Hoover will conclude his South American tour with a three days' stay at Rio de Janeiro, sailing for home Christmas eve.

Argentine President Accompanies Hoover to Dock When He Sails. BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 17.—After more than two days in Buenos Aires, largest city in Latin-America, Herbert Hoover left yesterday morning at 8:30 aboard the Argentine cruiser Buenos Aires for a trip up the La Plata River to Montevideo, capital of Uruguay.

He was accompanied aboard the cruiser by the Argentine President, Hipolito Irigoyen, who remained with him on the quarter deck until departure time—an hour and a half later than the time originally set—talking and finally leaving with an abra and the words: "Adios y Buen Viaje." (Good-by and a good trip.)

The circumstances of President Irigoyen's farewell attracted as much attention as did his welcome to the President-elect.

Throughout Mr. Hoover's visit Senior Irigoyen proved a most hospitable host, personally escorting the President-elect and his son, Allan, around the city on tours of inspection.

Saturday night he was, despite his age, which is reputed to be near that of President von Hindenburg of Germany, up until late at an affair in Hoover's honor, and it was not thought that he would appear yesterday morning. But at 3:30 he appeared, apparently well rested after a few hours' sleep, at the United States embassy, and shortly afterward left with Hoover, Mrs. Hoover, Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, Ambassador Bliss, and others for the North Basin, where the Buenos Aires was docked.

As the automobiles bearing the party drew up at the pier the ship's band sounded the Argentine naval salute and the entire coterie stood at attention. Hoover then walked up the ship's gangplank, followed by President Irigoyen and the others.

When time came for leave-taking, movie news reel cameras ground out a pictorial record of the party. A crowd of Argentines and members of the American colony here waved good-by as the ship drew away from the pier. Hoover, with Mrs. Hoover beside him, waved back from their stations on the quarterdeck.

A half hour later the cruiser had cleared the breakwater, and was well on its way to Uruguay.

FESS OFFERS BILL FOR A RETREAT FOR PRESIDENT

Ohio Senator Proposes Continuous Commission to Manage a Country Home for Executive.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Senator Simon D. Fess (Rep.), Ohio, a member of the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, introduced in the Senate today a bill proposing a continuous commission to secure and manage a presidential country retreat near Washington. Fess became an active supporter of the plan for a country home as soon as it was suggested by President Coolidge in his letter in the anniversary edition of the Post-Dispatch.

The bill introduced today was delayed until Fess could obtain advice from the congressional drafting service. The bill was referred to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds.

Following is the text of a statement made by Fess in connection with the bill:

"The burdens incident to the presidency are cumulative. The routine of the office is life-sapping. The time and usually the energy of the President. There is no relief under the present situation."

"There is a growing conviction that there should be an arrangement for a break in the routine of officialdom. A country White House far enough away from Washington to avoid the official atmosphere and yet near enough to avoid inconveniences appears essential. It should be out in the open free from the trappings of official life where the head of the Government can see nature at her best. His needs are trees, fields, fences, animal life, respite from the industrial pressure and official grind. It would be one of the best investments the Government could make."

"I am proposing a plan where a continuous commission could secure the place and have the management of the establishment."

The commission proposed in Senator Fess' bill would be composed of the President and Vice-President of the United States, the speaker of the House, the Chairman of the Senate and House Committees on House and Public Buildings and Grounds, the ranking minority members of each of these committees, the architect of the capital and the director of public buildings.

The bill would appropriate $500,000 for the use of the commission in making its investigation.

Fess said that he would confer with Chairman Keyes of the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee at once and ask for immediate consideration of his bill. He added that he hoped to get the proposal before the Senate at an early date.

denation even before it is tried, and this absurdity outrages the honest conscience of my country. In order to keep peace, it is worth another effort to those already noted today country to conserve it. This my Government believes, and although Bolivia's past and present actions do not justify any hopes, I have been instructed to communicate to you the acceptance of the good offices offered by the conference. At the same time, I must declare that we have ordered mobilization of the army, although simply for defensive purposes made necessary by the grave circumstances created by Bolivia's conduct."

"I am complying with my duty in informing the conference that the illustrious President of Argentina, being profoundly interested in the situation, offered his mediation which my Government quickly accepted, but thus far Bolivia has not shown a similar sentiment."

The note was signed by Gerónimo Zubizarreta, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Conciliation Committee Chosen at an American Session. By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A subcommittee to study problems of conciliation of disputes between countries of North and South America was appointed today by the Pan-American conference.

This was at the instigation of Dr. Jose Pedro Varela of Uruguay, who reported today that he had found a general agreement on the subject of the Cordoba treaty regarding conciliation, but that it was impossible for him alone to exhaust the subject.

The subcommittee includes Jose Pedro Varela, Uruguay; Ricardo J. Alfaro, Panama; Francisco Arroyo Parejo, Venezuela; Charles Evans Hughes, United States; Gustavo Gutierrez Sanchez, Cuba; S. Gurgel do Amaral, Brazil; Antonio Planet Cordero, Chile; Gustavo A. Diaz, Santo Domingo, and Victor M. Mauretua, Peru.

Bolivian Talks of Humiliation. Minister Diez de Medina of Bolivia upheld at a committee meeting on conciliation treaties the contention that Bolivia is entitled to "legitimate reparation after having suffered an international wrong."

His scathing suggestions that Bolivia was avoiding its arbitration and conciliation obligations. Maintaining that arbitration and conciliation should be applied "in prevision of armed conflict," not, and, finally, to cover preceding acts of violence which society and international law today unanimously condemn."

Once the dignity and the sovereignty of a nation were insulted, he said, no nation would support "the humiliation of the affront, furling its flag to replace it on the mast by the action of arbitration."

Arbitration was devised, he concluded, "to devise solutions of peace and justice, to unite peoples, not to subject them."

In Aysa, Paraguayan Dr. Elis speaking after the Bolivian delegate, said that Paraguay had had no part in the offenses charged by Bolivia and that she feared no investigation of the facts. He then expressed the hope that international controversies of the future would be handled in accordance with the principles of arbitration and conciliation.

Juan Ramirez, Paraguayan

Charge d'Affaires, accused Bolivia of seeking war for territorial aggrandizement and of using loans made in the United States for preparing for war.

Minister de Medina of Bolivia countered by denying that his country sought war, or had used loans made in the United States for armaments. He said there was no doubt that Paraguay had been the aggressor in the first clash of troops at Fort Vanguardia on Dec. 6 and contended that this refuted the charge of Bolivian aggression.

Briand to Convoke Council of League if War Is Declared. By the Associated Press.

LUGANO, Dec. 17.—If either Bolivia or Paraguay formally declares war, a special session of the Council of the League of Nations will be convoked at Paris by Foreign Minister Briand as president of the Council.

Briand made this announcement to newspaper men today shortly after sending new cablegrams to both the disputing nations urging the dangers to peace which result from contact between the military forces of the two countries. He urged Bolivia and Paraguay to avoid incidents which might compromise the specific settlement of their dispute.

100 Paraguayans Killed, Reports to La Paz Say. By the Associated Press.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Dec. 17.—Unofficial advice of the fighting in the border district of Chaco state more than 100 Paraguayan soldiers have been killed. The Bolivian losses were described as light.

It was added that Bolivian troops had captured 30 wagons loaded with provisions and munitions, a large tractor and numerous prisoners.

The Foreign Office authorized all legations to say that the army had not been mobilized. It was added that the clashes at the forts in the Chaco region were participated in only by the Bolivian army.

When word of the Bolivian victory at Port Boveron (Mariscal Lopez) was received, men, women and children were moved to a patriotic frenzy. They waved the streets of La Paz and gathered in front of the national palace where the clamor of the crowd brought President Siles and Foreign Minister Elis from their offices. The President and the Foreign Minister spoke to the assembly and counseled serenity.

Among the Bolivians killed at the fort was Second Lieutenant Jose Miguel Villanueva Charvarin. Three brothers of the officer, called on the President and asked permission to march against the Paraguayans. The President rebuffed them with deep emotion.

Another note was sent to the League of Nations and to the fighting at Fort Vanguardia. After realigning the circumstances of the first clash on Dec. 6, at Fort Vanguardia, the message addressed to the Council of the League, added:

"This Government in a cablegram addressed to you on Dec. 13 stated that after Paraguay's aggression Bolivia had found it necessary to take defensive military measures to safeguard Bolivian security. At that time Paraguay had established strong outposts near the frontier but was logical nevertheless to expect that further clashes might be avoided."

"Unhappily, however, the clashes have taken place. According to the chief of the military zone, fresh detachments of the Paraguayan army have entered Bolivian forts in the adjacent areas with the result that Bolivian forces have occupied, after a sanguinary battle, the Paraguayan fort at Boveron. This action was taken on the ground that Bolivia is a fort in territory over which Bolivia has a traditional and indisputable claim."

"This Government, in compliance with your desires, is hastening to place these events before the Council of the League of Nations and before your excellencies. These events are not only just but their unfolding of the aggression initiated by Paraguay, but are also transgressions of the solemn pledge which civilized peoples have evolved to maintain the peace of the world."

A crowd of more than 1,000 made a friendly demonstration in front of the United States legation. The cause was a report that the American aviators had offered to serve in the Bolivian army and that two former American ministers to this country were making a tour of inspection hanging on the tail of the Bolivian plane.

Stain Found on Old Coat. An old blue serge coat with a blood spot on the right sleeve was found yesterday hanging on a hook in the basement of the son's home here. The one button remaining on the garment did not match the button which was found near the body of the elder Hundley, where presumably it had been dropped by the slayer.

Previously, a spotted khaki shirt had been found in the son's home. The son's wife explained that he had worn the shirt while quail hunting last Monday.

The coat was one which the son used in working about the house. He has made no explanation of the stain on it.

Both the coat and shirt were sent to St. Louis for analysis to determine whether the spots on the garments are of human blood.

Superintendent Inspector Hundley chatted with the Sheriff, who was not questioned. He said he would like to give any assistance he could toward clearing up the murder. He suggested that a pistol might be found in a box on a farm owned by his father near Carbondale. Search has made there without success.

To Ask for Son's Indictment. State's Attorney Fletcher Lewis today told the Post-Dispatch correspondent:

"I am satisfied with the legal aspects of the case and have reason to believe we are on the right track in our investigation. Even on the information we now have, I expect to seek the indictment of Victor Hundley."

"While the evidence is purely circumstantial, it points strongly in the direction in which we are working. I have not yet laid all my cards on the table."

Found today in the basement of Victor Hundley's home. Hundley said he was storing it for a convicted bootlegger now in jail.

Carbondale Chief in St. Louis for Analysis of Evidence. Chief of Police Montgomery of Carbondale arrived in St. Louis today with a grip containing Victor Hundley's blood-stained coat and shirt, the bullets which killed Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Hundley, and specimens of the blood of the slain.

Chief of Police Gerk, with whom the Carbondale Chief conferred, explained the St. Louis Police Department could not participate in a inquiry as the crime was outside the city and St. Louis citizens were not involved. However, Chief Gerk referred the visiting Chief to Dr. R. H. Gradwohl's laboratory, who was the states on the garments and Calvin Goddard, New York, firearms expert, for microscopic examination of the bullet.

At Dr. Gradwohl's laboratory, was stated the stains on the garments were from blood, but a day or two would be required to determine whether it was human blood.

GRAPPLERS FIND FRESH DEBRIS

Chief Brings Victor Hundley's Stained Coat and Shirt, and Bullets to St. Louis for Analysis.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CARBONDALE, Ill., Dec. 17.—Investigation of a murder of former Mayor J. Charles Hundley and his second wife, Luella, who were shot to death in their home here Wednesday night, today centered about a tiled well in the back yard of the nearby home of the former Mayor's son, Victor A. Hundley, who is in the county jail at Murphysboro, charged with the crime.

Sheriff Flanagan thinks the missing automatic pistol with which Mr. and Mrs. Hundley were killed, was thrown in the well by the slayer. The well is 20 feet deep and six inches in diameter.

By use of grappling hooks, the pistol was retrieved from the bottom of the well a brick, a quantity of excelsior and some weeds, all of which appeared to have been thrown in the well recently.

Although there is water in the bottom of the well, the brick was not soaked through. It is the Sheriff's theory that this stuff was thrown in on top of the pistol.

If the hookmen bring the pistol on light today the well will be widened and a more thorough search made.

Bolivian Securities Fall in Anticipation of War. By the Associated Press.

SAINT PAUL, Dec. 17.—Developments in threatened war between Bolivia and Paraguay were reflected in downward price movements of Bolivian securities on New York markets today. Bolivian Government bonds were hanging on, pressed for sale on the stock exchange and declined in Paraguayans. The President embraced them with deep emotion. Another note was sent to the League of Nations and described the fighting at Fort Boqueron. The fighting at Fort Boqueron, the message addressed to the League of Nations, adds: "This Government in a cablegram addressed to you on Dec. 11, stated that after Paraguayan aggression Bolivia had found it necessary to take defensive military measures to safeguard Bolivian security. At that time Paraguay had established strong military outposts near the frontier but it was logical nevertheless to hope that further clashes might be avoided."

A crowd of more than 10,000 made a friendly demonstration in front of the United States legation. The cause was a report that three American aviators had offered to serve in the Bolivian army and that two former American ministers to this country were making a press campaign in favor of Bolivia. American Minister Kaufman, addressing the crowd, counseled peace.

Bolivian Securities Fall in Anticipation of War. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Developments in threatened war between Bolivia and Paraguay were reflected in the Bolivian security markets today. Bolivian Government 8 per cent bonds were pressed for sale on the stock exchange and declined in price more than 10 per cent. The Government 7 per cent bonds, traded on the New York curb market, dropped about 10 per cent.

Other Latin-American issues were less active in trading and made smaller declines, most of which were confined to fractions.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch. ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17.—A charge of defrauding the city of St. Louis of $9532 by short weight of coal delivered to the city hospitals, against William O. Seel, president of the Berry-Bergs Coal Co. of St. Louis, was dismissed by Assistant Circuit Attorney Joseph L. Lemmon today.

The fault was disclosed when a contract with the city was read in evidence. The contract provided for coal deliveries between Sept. 1, 1925, and Aug. 31, 1926. The indictment described the contract as running from Aug. 1, 1925, to Aug. 1, 1926.

Lemmon attempted to proceed offering his second witness, Victor C. Schmieding, a coal venter, but the defense attorneys argued that his testimony was irrelevant and immaterial without the contract. "We have gone as far as we can," Lemmon told the court. "I think the state ought to dismiss the case."

The case, which was sent here on a charge of venue upon allegation that a fair trial could not be obtained in St. Louis, was dismissed an hour after testimony began. When Deputy City Register Rombauer, the first witness, identified the contract, defense attorneys pointed to the fact that the indictment was dated Aug. 1, 1926, and the contract was dated Aug. 1, 1925.

The defense asked for a directed verdict of not guilty but Judge Bremer confined his action to accepting the dismissal. Lemmon was allowed 15 minutes to decide whether to proceed with the trial of the remaining charges.

Lemmon told reporters that he detected the error two months ago and called it to the attention of Assistant Circuit Attorney John E. Bowcock, who drew the indictment. Bowcock, he said, gave him an opinion that the fact that the indictment was signed, Lemmon explained that the error crept in because Bowcock took the dates for the indictment from another contract which figured in the case.

James M. Wehlan, secretary-treasurer of the company, was indicted also on Jan. 31. He and Seel are charged jointly in a separate indictment with defrauding the Police and Fire Departments of $10,035 by short weight of coal.

Specifically the charges are of obtaining money by false pretenses. Seel is charged with conspiring with Louis J. McElroy, vice-president of the company, to deliver short weight loads of coal to the city hospitals and accordingly 10,892 tons were delivered in the year ending Aug. 31, 1926, but the city was charged for 13,240 tons.

Seel and Wehlan, who both were here today, have denied knowledge of and fraudulent dealings with customers. McElroy has estimated that city institutions and other customers were defrauded of $175,000 through short weight deliveries.

Seel owns the Berry-Bergs Co. but Wehlan has no share in the stock and Anthony C. Happe Jr., brother-in-law of Seel and vice-president of the company, has a share. Seel and Happe reside together in Kirkwood.

King's Youngest Son in New York

PRINCE GEORGE boarding the liner Berengaria at New York after H. M. S. Durban, on which he serves as a lieutenant, had brought him from Bermuda to go to the bedside of his father.

KING HAS RESTLESS AFTERNOON, SUFFERS SETBACK IN ILLNESS Continued From Page One.

King's fluctuating progress from the application of therapy. Treatment with ultra-violet rays began yesterday, but it was pointed out today that this treatment would have no immediate effect but the supposition prevailed, however, that favorable results would not be long in manifesting themselves. It was thought that improvement would be noticeable after three or four applications.

The therapy of ultra-violet ray treatment has had remarkable successes in hospitals in recent years, but its use in the King's case is the most striking recognition it has yet received in England.

The first application would probably be for not more than a half a minute. Today's exposure of the back and chest of the King to the rays was likely to be for one minute and the periods would be increased from day to day.

Medical experts, in the morning papers, explained in detail the method of application and the effects sought from the treatment. It was assumed that a mercury vapor lamp was employed, the apparatus being connected with the electric circuit in the sick room. To avoid injury to the eyes from the ultra-violet rays, the patient and the operators wear dark tinted glasses. Another necessary precaution is to avoid burning the skin.

Acting through the superficial blood vessels, the rays so stimulate the body as to increase the number of white corpuscles in the blood. These prey upon the invading microbes of disease. They also produce some vitamin which is distributed through the body through the blood. There is still considerable mystery about the action of the rays and experts acknowledge that much is to be learned as to how the beneficial results are produced.

The curative method of the treatment is likened to the exhilarating influence of natural sunlight. Under the influence of the rays, the skin becomes slightly flushed and the patient feels a pleasant glow which it is supposed results from chemical changes in the blood.

It is generally assumed that the King had now really turned the corner. The Daily Express said today the King was still suffering from considerable pain, but was conscious and able to take an interest in his surroundings. The paper asserted that for the greater part of the 48 hours immediately after the two operations of last Wednesday, he was unconscious.

Since both of Sunday's bulletins were favorable, Hopefulness was in evidence at Buckingham Palace. The morning bulletin said: "In spite of a restless night, his majesty's condition has slightly improved." The Evening bulletin proved: "The King had a quiet day and the improvement in his majesty's condition noted this morning has been maintained."

Since the bulletins said nothing about the King's pulse or circulation, it was inferred that his doctors were satisfied as to his general condition. Members of the royal family were beginning to move with greater freedom as a result of their relaxation from the anxiety which held them in the critical days after the operations.

Queen Mary ventured for the first time in a long while to take a meal outside the palace, lunching with the Duke and Duchess of York in their Piccadilly home. Viscount Lascelles and Princess Mary were also present.

ENGINEER KILLED BY HIS WIFE AFTER NIGHT OF REVELRY

Paris Woman Tells She Shot Her Husband After He Had Threatened Her in Spasm.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World. (Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York.) PARIS, Dec. 17.—Robert Weiler, well-known Paris engineer, was shot dead by his wife, Mrs. Jeanne Weiler, in their apartment in Rue Chaligny, yesterday, following a night of pleasure in Montmartre and Montparnasse.

Self-defense is the motive given by the woman. According to her, she and her husband got home about 4 a. m. in the best of spirits. After they had been asleep for a few hours, she said, her husband awakened showing signs of one of the "fits" to which she declares he had been subject as a result of an operation which he underwent during the war.

Knowing that he became violent at such times, she said, she got a pistol. Her husband ran after her, she declared, shouting: "You are the cause of all my misery. You are going to die. I will kill myself afterward."

Panic-stricken, Mme. Weiler fired two shots into her husband's head. He staggered back to the bedroom and collapsed, moaning: "For pity's sake, finish me off. I am in agony."

So I fired a bullet point blank into his ear," the wife told police. After the killing, Mme. Weiler telephoned the police while her 16-year-old son threw himself sobbing on his stepfather's body.

The Weilers had been married only a year. Mme. Weiler had been married twice before. A friend of the slain engineer who served in the same flying corps with him during the war, contradicts Mme. Weiler's statement that her husband was subject to fits of violence. He declared Weiler, on the contrary, was a particularly kind and loving man with perfect mental balance.

He intimated that Mme. Weiler was flighty and that when her husband remonstrated with her for flirting she would exclaim impatiently: "Oh, what an old-fashioned stick you are! Do as I do. Let's be up-to-date. The modern idea of marriage is much better than the old."

EX-CONVICT CHARGED WITH AUTO KILLING BROUGHT BACK Sylvester Robinson, Brother of Egan Robinson, Retained From Detroit to Face Trial.

Sylvester Robinson, ex-convict, named by a Coroner's jury as the intoxicated driver of an automobile which killed a man and a woman at Lindell boulevard and Sarah street last March 9, was returned to St. Louis from Detroit by detectives yesterday.

Robinson, 25 years old, is a younger brother of "Chippy" Robinson, Egan gangster, who is serving a 25-year sentence at Atlanta for mail robbery. Simon A. Meyer of 5746 Kingsbury avenue and Mrs. Julia Mann, 6036 Washington, were killed by the machine he was driving.

The detectives who went to Detroit for Robinson also brought back Charles Newsham, 28 years old, who has been sought since early this year, when the State Supreme Court affirmed a seven-year sentence against him for assault to kill. Newsham was convicted of firing three shots at a young woman and her escort when she refused to accompany Newsham and several other men. Newsham, who had been in liberty on a $2500 bond signed by State Senator Joseph Mogler pending the appeal, said he had not been informed of the Supreme Court's action.

Girl, 15, Missing. Police have been asked to search for Charlotte Tepeler, 15 years old, of 3634 South Jefferson avenue, who disappeared Saturday after leaving a note for her mother to the effect that she intended to spend her earnings for clothes.

PAIR FOUND SLAIN WERE SUMMONED IN HOLDUP TRIAL

Mineola, N. Y. Police Think Man and Wife Were Murdered to Silence Them Over Store Robbery.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The mystery in the killing of a young man and a young woman early Saturday night on a deserted bungalow off the Hempstead turnpike, between the villages of Franklin Square and Elmont, L. I., was lifted yesterday when fathers of the victims identified them and gave Mineola police information, amplified from other sources, which caused a general alarm to be sent out for three men awaiting trial for a holdup.

The murdered pair were not lovers keeping a tryst, as first supposed, but a husband and wife. The deserted bungalow was a trap to which they were lured, in a manner yet to be determined, and shot.

From the parents and a dozen other witnesses summoned at their suggestion, District Attorney Edwards and Capt. Harold King of the Nassau County detectives, soon had information which caused them to communicate with New York police.

New York police were asked for details of the holdup of a Thomas McAn, store July 7, in which Melvin Hartshill, the manager, was shot. Learning that three of the men indicted for participation in the holdup were awaiting trial in General Sessions Court, District Attorney Edwards asked the New York police to round them up.

The Lincoln County holdup did not proceed far enough to connect these men with the Hempstead turnpike murder, the District Attorney said he had reason to think they held the solution of the crime.

Soro Graziano and his wife, Mary, the murdered pair, Edwards said he had reason to think, knew all about the crime for which they held the solution of the crime. Soro Graziano said he was informed, as State's witnesses when the case was scheduled for trial.

Graziano was said by police to have been the driver of the car in which the robbers escaped after the holdup. He was arrested but was not indicted with the others and was to have appeared against them at the trial, which was to have been begun this week.

ROBBERS TIE UP WATCHMAN, STEAL $5000 FROM SAFE

McCrory 5 and 10-Cent Store at Sixth and St. Charles Looted Saturday Night.

Approximately $5000 was reported stolen from the safe of the McCrory 5 and 10 cent store, Sixth and St. Charles streets, by three men who tied up a watchman Saturday night.

The watchman, Walter Craig, told police he came up from the basement to the first floor on a freight elevator at 10 o'clock and was confronted by a white man and two Negroes. One of the men struck him with a sandbag, after which they took him down to the basement, tied him to a chair and stole his keys.

The men were in the store for an hour or more, chiseling open the safe. One of the Negroes, who was very tall, seemed familiar with the store. He addressed Craig as "Dad" and inquired about other employees, ascertaining that Craig was the only one present.

"Don't leave me tied," Craig pleaded. "You won't die," replied the tall Negro. "We'll fix you, Dad, so you can wiggle loose. But don't get loose until we get across the river."

After the robbers were gone the watchman released himself and notified police.

Youth Kidnaped by Two Robbers After They Rob Home. Harry Albert, 17 years old, 5737 Kingsbury avenue, reported he was kidnaped last night by two men who forced him to stand by while they looted his home.

Albert said the men hoarded his automobile at Page boulevard and Montclair street and made him drive one to Westlake Park. Learning that he lived with his parents, who were out for the night, the men made him drive to his home, from which they took a fur coat, some jewelry and $2.

Then, Albert said, they made him drive with them to Goodfellow and Florissant avenues, where they put him out of his own car.

The following holdups were reported: Filling station, at 4261 Washington boulevard, $20; restaurant at 6111 Horton place, $12.

ROBBERS SHOOT THREE POLICE AT LITTLE ROCK, KILLS NEGRO

Another Spectator Saved by Suspender Button: Holdup Man Wounded Seriously.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 17.—Three policemen and a spectator were wounded and a Negro killed by a robber who fought with more than 20 police here today. He was captured after he had been shot several times and seriously wounded. Tear gas bombs were used in an effort to dislodge the man who held police off for more than an hour.

The man, identified as Arnett Devoe, held up a confectionery store and in the confusion of customers attempting to flee, Jim Quarles, a Negro, was shot. Police responding to a call for aid were met by fire from the robber who in addition to his own pistol obtained the proprietor's pistol and a quantity of ammunition. He held off the attackers for more than an hour.

James A. Pitcock, Chief of Detectives, Capt. O. M. Martin and Patrolman W. P. Davenport were wounded slightly as was James Puryear, a spectator. Puryear was saved from serious injury by the bullet striking a suspender button.

CAFE MAN CAPTURED ESCAPED CONVICT

Charles Vaughn, Who Disarmed Officer Friday, Caught in Trying Holdup.

Charles Vaughn, alias Chuck Connors, escaped convict who disarmed a policeman Friday, was captured last night when he attempted to hold up a restaurant at 2400 South Broadway.

Holding one hand in a coat pocket, as if clutching a pistol, Vaughn walked in the restaurant and robbed a customer, Tony Christ, of 98 cents. The proprietor, Angelo Botcharin, sneaked up behind the robber, knocked Vaughn to the floor and sat on him until police were summoned.

Vaughn and Mark Miller, another convict, escaped from Joliet, Ill., penitentiary last month and came to St. Louis, committing several holdups. When police visited a county roadhouse in search of criminals, Vaughn took a revolver from Detective-Sergeant Wren and escaped. Miller was shot and seriously wounded.

When captured, Vaughn had a weapon. He led police to First and Carroll streets, where the revolver he had taken from Detective-Sergeant Wren was found under a lumber pile. It contained five bullets and one empty cartridge. Vaughn had fired on shot at Detective Kloepel before he made his escape from the roadhouse Friday. He said he had sold his own pistol, but feared to sell the detective's.

HEIDELBERG GETS FUND OF $500,000 FROM U. S.

Money for New Instruction Hall Is Presented by Ambassador Schurman.

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Dec. 17.—American affection for this ancient university city found expression today in an exchange of cordialities when Ambassador Schurman presented an American fund of $500,000 for a new hall of instruction. Subsequently honorary citizenship was conferred upon him by Dr. Maez, the Lord Mayor. The city was festively decorated with American and German flags as well as with flags of the university and the city. The entire Baden ministry and all the university authorities attended the ceremonies as well as President Loebe of the Reichstag and Prof. Gruber of Danzig, whose designs for the proposed new hall won first prize.

History of Fund.
 Schurman in presenting the American fund addressed the great assemblage at the city hall as "fellow students."

He recalled that early in the nineteenth century, American students began to find their way to Heidelberg which became for them the favorite school in Europe. He said that the time had come that suitable recognition be made of America's obligations.

Learning that the university needed a new hall of instruction he thought here was a way of showing American appreciation. The fund was now completed and the donors' names would be communicated without mentioning the amounts each gave.

"The proposal to raise $400,000," the Ambassador continued, "was first submitted to John D. Rockefeller Jr., who pledged himself to contribute half provided that he remainder was subscribed by others within a specified time. Simultaneously George F. Baker, subscribed $50,000 and the remaining $150,000 was contributed later by others."

Schurman especially paid tribute to Walter P. Chrysler, Henry Schiewein Jr., and Paul Warburg for their suggestions. He said it was found after the first announcement had been made that a half million dollars would be needed and this extra $100,000 was quickly subscribed by three American citizens born in the Rhineland, who insisted on remaining anonymous.

No Strings to Gift.
 The Ambassador explained that no strings of any kind were attached to the gift. He expressed the hope that the gift would prove to be a new bond of union between students and teachers of the two countries and also between the two peoples.

The formal presentation read: "To Heidelberg University, frequented for a century and always beloved by American students, whom she ever received with friendly welcome and generously trained in scholarship and research, a number of her American friends and well-wishers in that great helpful service, present, through Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, American Ambassador to Germany, this fund of over a half a million dollars to provide a new building for academic instruction, Christmas, 1928."

Names of Donors.
 Among the donors were these New Yorkers:

Julius S. Bache, James Brown, Julius Fortmann, W. A. Harriman, Robert Lehman, Elisha Walker, William Fox, Harris, Forbes & Co., Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures, Samuel Sachs, Paul Schittler, Felix Warburg, William H. Woodin, William G. Beckers, Clarence L. Dillon, Henry Goldman, Henry Heide, W. J. Norton, Mortimer L. Schiff, James Speyer, Warner Brothers Pictures, and Adolph Zukor.

Other donors included: George D. Hoar, Henry Janssen, Gustav Oberlander, Ferdinand Thun, all of Reading, Pa.; Julius Rosenwald, Chicago; W. B. Scott of Princeton, N. J.; and Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati.

Ambassador Schurman, who attended Heidelberg in his youth, was welcomed in the City Hall with a flourish of trumpets and an organ prelude after which Prof. Karl Heinsheimer, rector of the University, delivered the welcoming address.

He announced that the names of the donors and a bust of the Ambassador would be placed in the new hall as a lasting reminder, adding that Americans would always find a most friendly reception at the university.

Otto Leers, Baden Minister of Public Instruction, then expressed thanks on behalf of the Baden Government.

 Mother and Children Lose Their Lives When Flood Hits Car.

 FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 17.—Mrs. John Janacek and her two children, Alfred, 6 years old, and Joe, 2, were drowned last night when flood waters of Big Fossil Creek washed their automobile off the road. Janacek escaped unhurt.

By the Associated Press.
 REIDSVILLE, Ga., Dec. 17.—Mrs. Julia Summerford, 45 years old, wife of Mayor Daniel B. Summerford, and their 4-year-old son, Jean, were drowned when their automobile plunged down a steep hill leading to a ferry and fell into the Flint River. 200TH AUTO VICTIM WALKED INTO SIDE OF CAR IN RAIN

Lloyd Wilson, 33, Fatally Hurt by Police Machine Driven by Sergt. Wren at Easton and Cora.

The death at City Hospital early today of Lloyd Wilson, 33 years old, 4635 Evans avenue, from a fractured skull suffered last night when he walked into the side of a Police Department automobile and was knocked down brought the number of motor vehicle fatalities in St. Louis since Jan. 1, to 200, as compared with 140 at this time last year. The previous record for automobile deaths in a year was 192 in 1925.

Wilson was injured at 8 p. m. when he walked into the side of a machine driven by Detective Sergeant Joseph Wren at Easton and Cora avenues. Wren stopped to let another man cross in front of the car, then started up without seeing Wilson, due to rain. Wilson's head struck the pavement. He died at 1:20 a. m. An inquest will be held.

Albert Mock, 70, 1929 North Cardinal avenue, died at City Hospital last night of a fractured skull suffered Thursday, when struck by an automobile driven by Edgar Blankenmeyer, 1385 E. 11th ave. in front of 2101 Franklin avenue. After being struck Mock refused to have medical attention and went to his work in the composing room of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. He was removed to the hospital five hours later.

Unidentified Negro Found Dead. An unidentified Negro, about 50, found dead in the street at Broadway and Elm street at 1:20 a. m. today, is thought to have been struck by an automobile or street car. The man had suffered severe lacerations of the head and death apparently was due to a fractured skull. The body is at the morgue.

An unidentified man, about 50, found dead in the street in front of 5306 Cassville avenue, East St. Louis, is thought to have been the victim of a motorist who hit him, then fled from the scene.

The body was found by a motorist at 11 o'clock last night. The left side of the face had been crushed. The man weighed about 175 pounds, was 5 feet 10 inches tall and had blue eyes and brown hair streaked with gray. His clothing included a tan raincoat, brown checked suit and gray fedora hat. An umbrella was found near the body.

A small coupe driven by Elmer Rohrbacher, a chauffeur, 6116 Elizabeth avenue, was demolished at 3 a. m. yesterday when Rohrbacher drove through the crossing gates at Broadway and Tesson street and ran into the side of a speeding Missouri Pacific mail train. Miss Elizabeth Callas, 2922 Hickory street, riding with Rohrbacher, suffered lacerations of the head and face. Rohrbacher escaped injury.

Three of Family Hit by Auto. Joseph Pope, 4415 Ruska street, suffered a fractured skull; his wife, Julia, was cut, bruised, and their 3-year-old son, Thomas, suffered a possible skull fracture last night when they were struck by an automobile driven by John Schaper, 526 Eller street, while crossing Delor street at Leona avenue.

Four members of one family were injured yesterday afternoon when their automobile collided with another machine near Crystal City, Mo. They were Lon Ballard, his wife, Daisy; their son, George, and the latter's wife, Rosanna, all of 3609 McDonald avenue. Mrs. Ballard suffered a fractured hip and internal injuries; her daughter-in-law a broken nose and lacerations of the men cuts and bruises.

TWO AUTO DRIVERS ORDERED HELD FOR DEATH OF GIRL

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict of Criminal Negligence: Miss Ayanelle Johnson Victim. A verdict of criminal carelessness was returned by a Coroner's jury against two automobile drivers today for the death of Miss Ayanelle Johnson, 19 years old, 8616 Mora lane, Baden, who was killed Saturday night when she was thrown to the pavement in a collision between two machines at Shreve and Lee avenues. Miss Johnson died of a fractured skull. The defendants named in the verdict are Frank E. Wheeler, 2400 Wood avenue, Jennings, with whom Miss Johnson was riding, and Leonard D. May, 4537 Washington boulevard, driver of the other machine. Both were ordered to give $5000 bond pending presentation of the case to the grand jury. Neither Wheeler nor May testified at the hearing.

500 Dead in Philippine Typhoon. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Governor-General Stimson reported to the War Department today that latest reports from the typhoon-swept provinces of the Philippines brought the list of dead to more than 500. Substantial further assistance from the American Red Cross to alleviate the distress will be required, he said. Mr. Stimson said he was leaving Manila for a personal visit to the capitals of the five affected provinces.

ROCKEY EJECTED AND KILLED Negro's Skull Fractured With Ax

Landlord Held. Osborn Briggs, 32 years old, a Negro, died at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, last night of a fractured skull suffered early yesterday when he was struck on the head with an ax at a rooming house at 1634 Bodemene avenue, from which he had been ejected for nonpayment of rent.

Police are holding John Elder, a Negro, proprietor of the rooming house, who admits, police say, that he struck Briggs. Elder and his wife, Kate, say that Briggs threw a stone through a window at their house and then attempted to attack them with a knife.

24TH WARD DEFECTION

Committeemen There 34 to 10 for Kiel — Some Negroes Oppose Administration.

Officials of the Miller administration today heard, with some disquietude, of the action taken by the Twenty-fourth Ward precinct organization, at a meeting Saturday night, on the contest between Mayor Miller and former Mayor Kiel for the mayoralty nomination in the primary of next March. The Twenty-fourth Ward Precinct Committee members voted 34 to 10 in favor of supporting Kiel.

The Twenty-fourth, south of Forest Park, is the largest ward in St. Louis. It has been considered favorable territory to Miller, and its committeeman, Anton P. Klein, has been listed a Miller supporter. It was announced today that he would support Kiel.

Some Negroes Against Miller. Another serious phase of the situation, from the viewpoint of the Miller forces, is the attitude taken by some leading Negroes, opposing the administration because it has not supported the program for a Negro hospital in the western part of the city, near Sumner High School and Tandy Playground.

Some of the Negro leaders say they received promises, before the bond issue election of 1932, that the new Negro hospital, to be built with $1,200,000 of bond issue funds, would be in the district named. Under the last Kiel administration, a bill was passed for condemning ground for the purpose at Vitter street and St. Ferdinand avenue. In the present administration, a bill has been introduced into the Board of Aldermen to repeal the former measure, and condemn a block on Park avenue, north of the present main city hospital.

The arguments in favor of the South Side location have been those of efficiency and economy, through proximity to the main hospital. The Negro advocates of a Western site say that the hospital, if erected near the main hospital, would be a mere annex thereto. They desire an independent institution.

Buried in Committee. Charles H. Turpin, a Negro politician of the Sixth Ward, who is for Mayor Miller, has been in conference with the Mayor lately about this situation. The Board of Aldermen Friday sent the hospital measure back to a committee, possibly to remain until after the primary, in which 14 Aldermen, as well as the Mayor, are to seek re-nomination.

TARIFF AGAINST PHILIPPINE PRODUCTS SOUGHT BY WORKERS

1500 in Sial Industry in St. Louis Out of Work Because of Island Competition, They Say. Missouri representatives in Congress will be asked to seek revision of the tariff act to protect St. Louis sial, hemp and textile workers from the competition of cheap labor in the Philippine Islands. At a meeting of such workers at Ukrainian Hall, Grattan and La Salle streets, last night, a committee was appointed to act for them. It was stated that 1500 men, formerly employed in cordage, bag and carpet factories, are idle because St. Louis firms cannot meet the competition of manufacturers who have established factories in the Philippine Islands.

KILL EACH OTHER IN PISTOL FIGHT

YAZOO CITY, Miss., Dec. 17.—San Batallio, 45 years old, restaurant proprietor at Thornton, 20 miles from here, and S. P. Broomhall, 51, Yazoo County farmer, shot each other to death last night. The dead are: Mrs. Mary Hines, 60 years old; Mrs. Frank Carlisle, 33, daughter of Mrs. Hines; Lloyd Richey, 30, son-in-law of Mrs. Hines; Mrs. Lloyd Richey, 22; Eugene Richey, 3, and Frederick Elliott, 5, grandsons of Mrs. Hines.

GOV. FULLER AND BOSTON MAYOR ATTACK EACH OTHER
Executives Make Accusations in Connection With City's Transportation Problems.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Dec. 17.—Gov. Alvan T. Fuller and Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, both Republicans, were at odds today after an exchange of charges that for acerbity were almost without parallel in recent history of the State.

The Governor, by inference, attacked the Mayor in an address at Malden Saturday night in connection with the failure of the city to solve its transportation problems. He issued a new statement late last night in which he again assailed the Mayor.

Mayor Nichols replied to the Malden attack by describing the executive as a "successful speculator" rather than a "studious administrator," who "substitutes personal incentive for dispassionate discussion" and "mistakes slander for argument."

Nichols challenged the Governor to name the Mayor's "friends" who were described by Fuller as "gobbling up" all available land in East Boston at 2 cents a foot in anticipation of the construction of a vehicular tunnel under the harbor. The bill creating the tunnel commission has just been disapproved by the Mayor. Fuller charged it was killed because the Mayor had no say in appointing the commission.

In reply the Governor declared the people of Boston were being robbed, and said: "When the Mayor tries to make the public believe I am speculating in land or stocks then the most charitable conclusion that I can come to is that he is in his usual irresponsible condition."

In his Malden address the Governor referred to a former Governor as partly responsible, through obstruction to a subway extension, for muddled traffic conditions. Eugene N. Foss identified himself as the "former Governor" and a warm retort to Fuller suggested that the retiring executive either was grooming himself for Mayor of Boston or hoped that the publicity he received would keep his name before President-elect Hoover when the latter came to pick a new Ambassador to France.

LONG BREAD LINES FORM AT BAKERIES IN MOSCOW
Soviet Authorities Declare Uneasiness Over Food Supplies Is Unwarranted.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Dec. 17.—Long bread lines outside bakeries of Moscow Saturday and the day before prompted reassurances by Soviet authorities today and statements that uneasiness over food supplies was unwarranted.

M. Prossorov, member of the Moscow provision department, when asked to explain the bread lines said that on Dec. 14 some co-operative stores ran short of supplies, this immediately giving rise to rumors of a shortage of bread. He said these reports were not true and asserted there was sufficient reserve flour in Moscow to meet all demands.

It was learned that Moscow bakeries will be issued an additional hundred tons of flour for two days to the run on their counters. Some authorities attribute the bread rush to hoarding for the approaching holidays.

HOOVER SELECTS HIS WASHINGTON CHURCH

Next President to Attend Small Orthodox Friends Meeting House on Irving St.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Herbert Hoover will attend church at the Orthodox Friends meeting house, Thirteenth and Irving streets, during his term as President, according to the pastoral committee of the church.

There are two reasons for Hoover's selection of the Irving Street Friends' Orthodox Church, the main one being that it represents that branch of the Quaker, or Friends, faith in which he had his membership at his birthplace, West Branch, Pa.

The second consideration is that the Irving street building will hold some 300 persons when the auditorium and Sunday school room are thrown together. It is the largest Quaker meeting house in or near Washington. The last three Sundays before election Hoover attended service there.

This little meeting house is of light buff brick with concrete steps and windows of opaque glass. No belfry or spire decorates it and no bell calls the faithful to prayer. The congregation is an unusually friendly group which on Thanksgiving day and other occasions dines in the Sunday school room. The Ladies' Aid Society makes a specialty of quilting bees. Sitting before big frames, the members "tie down" a quilt and charge its owner according to the number of spoons of thread used in the process.

BYRD SHIP PLOWS ITS WAY 100 MILES THROUGH ICE PACK

Expedition 600 Miles From Bay of Whales, Its Base—Expected to Arrive There in Two Weeks.

WEATHER FINE; BARK MAKES GOOD TIME

Floes Shake Vessel From Stem to Stern—Temperature Above Freezing in Daytime.

By RUSSELL OWEN.
Copyright, 1928, St. Louis Post-Dispatch and New York Times.

ABOARD THE BARK CITY OF NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(By Wire)—Ice everywhere—as far as the eye can see in any direction there is nothing but a shining white expanse of snow-covered pack with hardly a break in it. But we are nearly 100 miles into it now and should be through in a few days.

The sun is so warm it can be felt through our coats and the air temperature is 25 degrees. There is hardly a cloud in the sky and only a faint breeze.

If it were not for the thunderous joints with which we hit the pack sometimes, this would be the most placid existence in the world. But occasionally we get a shock that shak's the ship from stem to stern, and we are thankful for the 21 inches of timber along our sides and the massive bow.

Up in the forecabin there is a rumble like distant thunder as we hit these heavy floes and they grind alongside. The vibration is terrific.

But on deck this is not so noticeable and we are enjoying this warm and peaceful interval between the roaring forties.

Entered Ice Pack Dec. 14. We started through the ice pack Dec. 14, the anniversary of Capt. Roald Amundsen's arrival at the South Pole, in 1912. He started south the year before and held bases toward the Pole during his first season, but it appears now that we should arrive at the Bay of Whales sooner than he did, because we are only about 600 miles away. He did not arrive there until Jan. 14.

With good luck we should be unloading in 10 days or two weeks, although it is rash to make predictions down here.

Commander Byrd, like Amundsen, intends to lay his bases as far inland as possible this season, that is, before March, when winter sets in, and to do most of his important work next year when he will be able to start flying long before it would be possible for a ship to get through the ice.

Amundsen began his polar journey on Oct. 19, when, despite the cold, the weather was fair for traveling and it should be equally good for flying.

But whereas Amundsen spent two months toiling over the snow and the crevasses and up the dangerous glaciers to the Pole from the Bay of Whales, Commander Byrd will make the flight in less than a day and will be able to map it and examine the route for some distance on each side. Such is the advantage of the airplane in exploration.

Nothing can detract from the brilliant march of Amundsen, however, one of the most efficient polar journeys ever made, although it was eclipsed in drama by the exploits of Shackleton and Scott.

Byrd to Honor Amundsen. Byrd and Amundsen were good friends and in honor of the great Norwegian explorer's accomplishment Byrd will carry a Norwegian flag, an American and New Zealand flag to the pole.

It is a great relief to be going forward again after lying-to off the ice pack for several days. The weather is perfect, a calm, warm day in which it is not uncomfortable to stand on deck in an ordinary woolen shirt and without a cap.

The sky is pale, Arctic blue, with a tinge of faint gray along the horizon. As far as one can see is snow-covered ice, hummocked and broken into large cakes, with frequent leads of open water between.

There are many grotesque shapes formed by the ice that has been heaved up and then eroded. The reflected glare is so brilliant as to tire the eye and snow glasses might be necessary if it were not for the streaks of dark open water.

Penguins Amuse Crew. Yesterday we saw several penguins and the first sight of these amusing birds, convulsed everyone aboard. A pair bobbed up on an ice floe alongside, cocked their heads at us, shook them and waved.

Byrd and Amundsen were good friends and in honor of the Norwegian explorer's accomplishment Byrd will carry a Norwegian Short Wave Radio Station, the Snow, sleet, rain and fog! For the purposes of this Antarctic aerial expedition, conditions here are no joke.

Tonight is calm, but the "ceiling" is at about 600 feet. And the plateau of "Whale's Land," over which we must cross, is 2,000 feet high and studded with mountains reaching as high as 6,000 feet.

Lieut. Ben Eickson, Pilot, Joe Cresson and I have shaved their heads, hoping that their monk-like appearance will help to compensate for their inexperience against the weather.

With their bald pate and bushy eyebrows they remind one of the ancient prophets. And since we have been so long delayed we fancy we heard the voices of our friends shouting, "The boys are here! The boys are here!"

"Go up, top bald heads!"

If the clouds break we may get away tomorrow.

President's Physician Tells Of Needs in Country Home

Dry Air, Lake or Stream, Golf Course and Accessibility to Washington, Requirements, Says Col. Coupal.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Col. James F. Coupal, the Army physician at the White House, described today for the Post-Dispatch the features desirable in a President's country home such as President Coolidge suggested in his letter to the anniversary edition of the Post-Dispatch.

Coupal has been medical adviser to the President and his family since July 1, 1924, when he was appointed White House physician by President Coolidge. He is as well qualified as anyone to discuss the health of the President and to prescribe the surroundings in which he should live. It has been part of his duties to see upon the summer places at which Mr. Coolidge has spent his vacations.

"In the first place, the selection of such a home as should be made for the President, rather than political reasons," Coupal said. "Attitude is the prime necessity. If possible, the proposed home should be 3,500 feet above sea level.

"There must be taken that there shall be dry air. In many of the hills surrounding Washington the air currents bring moisture to the hill tops. This is not desirable from a health standpoint.

"Should be Near Water.

"If possible, the home should be near water of some sort of a lake or a stream. And it would also be desirable to have a golf course, within easy reach.

"The point of accessibility to Washington could be overcome. Some Presidents might want an inaccessible place. In these days of rapid communication, the President could be reached by air in constant touch with Washington and its officials.

"Now to sum up the advantages. The object of a country home is to give the President mental and physical rest and recreation. High altitude in itself will make a person take more exercise. Washington, with its low altitude, is depressing. If the President goes to the hills he will be invigorated by the air alone. Exercise will follow.

"The drier the air, the less likelihood of fog and rains which would spoil holidays. The air currents through some of the valleys in Maryland and Virginia make even the hill tops disagreeable living places.

"The country home should furnish means of rest and recreation. If there were water, a lake or a stream, the President could fish. If some of our Presidents might be golf enthusiasts, they undoubtedly would want a golf course, within easy reach of the country home.

"Presidency Is a Killing Job."

"The matter of accessibility is up to each President. Some could be inaccessible in an accessible place, and others might entertain extensively in an inaccessible place. Almost everyone knows that the presidency is a killing job. Every President is made to realize it.

MINORITY ISSUE IN LEAGUE FORCED BY STRESEMANN

German Foreign Minister Defends Volksbund (People's League) in Reply to Attack by Pole.

PARIS PAPER CENSURES HIM

Peace of Europe Depends Upon Settlement of This Question, Berlin Publication Declares.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

(Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World.)

PARIS, Dec. 17.—The thump of Dr. Gustav Stresemann's fist on the League Council table at Lugano in answer to the attack of the Polish Foreign Minister, Zaleski, upon the German Volksbund in Upper Silesia, has resounded throughout Europe. The Post-Dispatch has made perhaps the most unusual signed contribution ever given by an occupant of the White House to a single journal. One of the suggestions made by him—that of providing a summer residence near Washington for future Presidents—is treated in a dispatch from Washington appearing on this page today.

In the same section Chief Justice Taft forcefully presents certain aspects of legal reforms that will command attention. Altogether, this issue of the Post-Dispatch deserves and will receive prompt recognition as a great achievement in newspaper making, and The Eagle offers its congratulations.

"A Notable Triumph of Modern Journalism."

From the Detroit Free Press.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, established 50 years ago by the late Joseph Pulitzer, issued last Sunday a 232-page semi-centennial edition, which was a notable triumph of modern journalism in its printing and color work, and was a magnificent tribute by the inheritors to the founder of the publication. The enterprise and intelligence manifested in the collection and production of the all over the world for their splendid co-ordinate monumental work.

My enjoyment increases with every article read.

W. H. MOOK. (M. D.)

"Wonderful Edition."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I want to most sincerely congratulate you and those on your staff who were responsible for the wonderful Fiftieth Anniversary Edition of the Post-Dispatch.

Frankly I have been reading it over ever since it was delivered and I am not finished yet. I am going to keep it for the valuable information it contains.

The Post-Dispatch has played a very important part in helping to put St. Louis prominently on the map not only in its country but abroad, and it is a distinct pleasure for me to add my congratulations to the very many I know you have already received.

CHARLES F. HATFIELD.
Secretary and General Manager St. Louis Convention and Publicity Bureau.

"Splendid Material."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Having read the many editorial comments on your fiftieth anniversary edition, I realize how impossible it is for a layman to fully appreciate the magnitude of your accomplishment. However, I can express my appreciation of the splendid material which you have put before us to stimulate our vision of what thoughtful people regard as the problems of our modern civilization.

LEE FISCHER.

"Worthy and Beautiful Product."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The fiftieth anniversary number of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch is a fitting marker of an event which reminds American journalism of the beginnings of the first Joseph Pulitzer, and it is a worthy and beautiful product of the establishment which the second Joseph Pulitzer directs.

"Significant and Interesting."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The fiftieth anniversary number of the Post-Dispatch is a beautiful, significant and interesting production, and I congratulate you upon it.

COMMENT ON THE POST-DISPATCH ITS FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY NUMBER

....AND....

"A Great Achievement in Newspaper Making."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Please accept my great thanks for the remarkable edition of the Post-Dispatch to celebrate the fiftieth year of its existence. You can certainly, with pride, look back to the fifty years of its history, conscientiously and successfully presentation of justice in its broad sense.

(Vice President St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.)

G. PANTALEONI.

"Mighty Interesting."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It was with great pleasure that I received a copy of the Fiftieth Anniversary number of the Post-Dispatch yesterday. It is mighty interesting to me and I have not quite finished reading it but as far as I can see now it is the finest newspaper edition that I have ever seen.

I feel highly honored to have received this copy from you personally.

JOHN A. PARSELOW.
Lieutenant-Colonel, A. C. Commanding, Scott Field, Ill.

"A High Public Service."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In behalf of the American Civil Liberties Union, let me acknowledge receipt of the copy of the fiftieth anniversary number of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Let me also congratulate you on this great journal's 50 years of high public service so admirably commemorated in this beautiful special issue.

FORREST BAILEY.
(Director American Civil Liberties Union.)

"Noteworthy Number."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

President Coolidge asks me to extend to you her congratulations upon your very noteworthy anniversary number of the Post-Dispatch, as well as her thanks for the copy received this morning. She is taking pleasure in placing this in our college library.

VIRGINIA P. EDDY.
Assistant Secretary to the President, Wellesley College.

"A Magnificent Achievement."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It was a magnificent achievement for the Post-Dispatch to produce such a masterpiece in journalistic work in their fiftieth anniversary number.

The present staff deserves all the praise the paper is receiving for all over the world for their splendid co-ordinate monumental work.

My enjoyment increases with every article read.

"Has Not Swerved From Its High Purpose."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The wonderful strides made by the Post-Dispatch in the half-century of its existence, not only as a leader of thought, but as a daily compendium of news, is strikingly illustrated by a comparison of the anniversary issue with that of 50 years ago. While keeping pace with the progress of the years, the paper has not, however, swerved from the high purpose to which it was dedicated by its founder. A newspaper's character is to be measured by its editorial utterances. Those of the Post-Dispatch have, as a rule, through the passing years, been marked by clearness of expression, correctness of thought and soundness of reasoning. To these I attribute its merited success.

R. F. WALKER.
(Chief Justice, Supreme Court of Missouri, Jefferson City.)

"The Best in Journalism."

From the Editor and Publisher, New York.

Newspaper men interested in the history of their craft during the past 50 years will find no better epitome of the best in journalism than is contained in the Fiftieth Anniversary Number of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, dated Dec. 9. The needs of the present, the progress of the past, the possibilities of the future are viewed through the minds of people whose names command respect throughout the world. Seven magnificent printed color grave sections tell in words and pictures the story of civilization since 1878 as seen by the historian, the artist, the jurist, the scientist, the philosopher, the captain of industry and the skilled journalist. The picturesque history of St. Louis is reviewed by able penmen, though we believe less modest writers might have claimed for the great press of the city a larger share of credit for its present glories.

The Post-Dispatch anniversary number, and the similar jubilee issue of the Minneapolis Journal last week, rendered a distinct service both to their clientele and to the newspaper business which they refused to solicit and actually declined congratulatory advertising. The occasion seems to warrant such expression from friends, and the easily-gained revenue is often hard to refuse without offense, but in actual practice the solicitation of advertising for special editions has too often savored of passing the hat or waving the lead-pipe.

Both the Post-Dispatch and the Journal enter upon their second half-century with the vigor of youth and the fiber of experience. They stand among the foremost journals of America complete newspapers which know the things that do not end, but begin, when the day's news is reported.

To both, Editor and Publisher, extends on behalf of the entire fraternity sincere wishes for many more decades as useful as have been the past five.

"Splendid and Monumental."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I prize highly the copy of the Fiftieth Anniversary Edition of the Post-Dispatch which you sent and shall retain it as a permanent addition to my library. Having myself toiled as a newspaper executive, I appreciate the inspiration, the planning, the conception represented in a publication so splendid and monumental.

Long an admirer of your father, whose incisive psychology, vision and dynamic methods led me every time I reread his "Life and Letters," I regard your anniversary edition as a fruition of his energies and a noble tribute to his memory. I liked the phrasing and construction of your leading editorial dedicating the Post-Dispatch to his purposes.

WALLACE T. HUGHES.
(General Attorney, Rock Island Lines) Chicago.

"The Best and Most Complete Paper."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

When I ordered the Fiftieth Anniversary number of your paper, it was with the intention of studying the paper merely from the advertising angle. However, it seems that there were so many articles of "human interest" and so many clever features, that I read everything, but the advertisements.

In my business I have found it necessary to "look over" practically all the larger newspapers published in the United States. Allow me to congratulate you on having issued the best and most complete paper it has ever been my pleasure to see.

ROBERT HART.
Milwaukee.

"Masterpiece in Journalism."

From the St. Louis Argus.

The Fiftieth Anniversary issue of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch was a masterpiece in Journalism. It was attractive to the eye, instructive to the mind, and a pleasure to the heart.

BYRD SHIP PLOWS ITS WAY 100 MILES THROUGH ICE PACK

their flippers as if trying to assure themselves that they were awake. They put their heads together and talked it over, and finally decided that they both saw the same thing, for they waddled down to the edge to look us over more closely.

As they walked with a wobbling motion from side to side they waggled their flippers as if to balance themselves and presented so ludicrous an appearance as to cause everyone to howl with laughter.

Commander Byrd came running out of the chart room and began to laugh as soon as he saw them. It is impossible to resist the infectious humor of these birds.

Babe Smith took a long look at them and said solemnly: "They aren't real. They're just isn't any such animal."

After bobbing their heads about and facing each other awhile, they stretched their necks as if talking it over, and again walked a few steps and conferred again. The barking of the dogs seemed to interest them particularly.

One could almost imagine one saying: "Molly, what in the world do you suppose that noisy and dirty thing is out there?" And Molly, replying, after stretching her neck and shaking her head and waving her flippers: "Oh, that's merely some more of those crazy explorers. Let's go."

And away they went, sliding on their bellies across the ice, propelling themselves by their flippers and feet.

They move with remarkable speed in this way, fully as fast as a brisk walk. Three of them followed us for half a mile, propelling themselves along and occasionally standing up to look around and make sure that we were still in sight.

In the open leads this morning we saw ice forming behind us almost as fast as we went through. The water was full of ice crystals and, as they came to the surface, they formed a sort of scum of ice which quickly solidified into a thin sheet.

It reminded one of the story of Jules Verne, in which a piece of ice was thrown into the sea when it was at the point of freezing and the ice was just sufficient to start a crust that rapidly spread over the entire surface.

Air Above Freezing in Daytime. And yet the air today has been a little above the freezing point. It is perceptibly colder at night, when the sun drops to about 15 degrees above the horizon, and last night the temperature went down to 21 above zero. But it can be seen that we are not suffering from the cold yet, although only a few hundred miles from the barrier.

The continued light at night has made sleep difficult for us, but we are rapidly getting used to it, although one is apt to forget what time of day or night it is when the sun shines all the time.

The light effects change greatly as the sun gets closer to the horizon and there are many contrasts of brilliant color and steel gray on the skyline.

A few seals have been seen basking in the sun, fat, sleepy fellows, which raise their heads and look with mild curiosity at the drifting menagerie of barking dogs and then roll over and go to sleep again.

We are making fair speed and hope that the ice will remain open for the whole distance through the pack. Such luck would be almost unprecedented, but as this is the earliest any explorer has been able to get through, and as the reports from the whalers below indicate that the ice is opening more all the time, we are sanguine as to the result.

An occasional hard bump against a floe which grinds its way alongside reminds us, however, that we are dealing with a dangerous force when set in motion by an unfavorable wind.

The peace and serenity of this day brings about a false sense of security, the human animal being quick to forget a peril which is past or is not immediately threatening.

Taking Motion Pictures. Joe Ruckner, one of the moving picture photographers, has rigged a platform extending about 18 feet out from the bow and is perched there taking pictures of the ice being crushed under our forefoot.

The platform shivers and trembles sometimes under the impact of the ice, but Joe, with one arm around a stay, grinds away unconcernedly.

Taking pictures here is rather difficult, due to the intense light and the danger of overexposing, and a filter has to be used virtually all the time, even when the sky is overcast. Constant experiment is going on to determine the proper filters and exposure.

Another phenomenon which has caused difficulty is the erratic behavior of the compasses, which get wilder and wilder as we get farther south.

Commander Byrd swung the ship before heading into the ice and found large errors in both the standard compass and the steering compass.

"I have heard of that happening, but I never saw it before," he said.

"However, now we can tell where we are going once more, which is a comfort," he added smilingly.

Why Compass Sticks. Commander Byrd never gets excited, no matter what happens, and there have been some rather critical moments in this journey so far.

The sticking of the compass was due to the fact that the dip of the needle is so great when close to the magnetic pole that the horizontal magnetic forces are too weak to overcome the downward pull.

It is a phenomenon with which all explorers are familiar, but it is disconcerting at sea, nevertheless. With a sun compass, however, an absolute check can be obtained.

A wireless dispatch to the New York Times from the steamship Eleanor Bolling gave her position at noon yesterday as 480 miles southeast of Taro Head, N. Z. She is bound for Dunedin to get a second load of supplies for the Byrd expedition.

COMMITTEE TO DRAW UP ST. LOUIS RAIL-WATER RATES

Shippers, Railroads and Barge Line Represented in Chamber of Commerce Group.

A committee of St. Louis shippers and representatives of railroads and the Federal barge line has been appointed by Walter B. Weisenburger, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to draw up as many rail and water rates as possible through St. Louis. Establishment of such rates by the Interstate Commerce Commission was provided by the Denison act of the last Congress.

The committee, which is headed by Harold M. Bixby, retiring chairman of the board of the chamber, and W. K. Kavanaugh, head of its River Committee, is to hold its first meeting at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce. It was appointed under a resolution adopted at last week's meeting of the River Committee, pointing out the importance to St. Louis of the establishment of joint rates through this gateway.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

COMMENT ON THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY NUMBER OF THE POST-DISPATCH

tive to the mind and appealing to the imagination. And while there were many, many attractive features, yet none appealed to us as the tablet upon which was engraved the Post-Dispatch's platform by Joseph Pulitzer, its founder in 1877.

May long live the Post-Dispatch to carry out a platform with such high purposes.

"Noble in Conception, Purpose and Execution"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I wish to most highly commend your Fiftieth Anniversary number in this edition. This number is both in its conception, purpose and execution. Nothing in this line that has ever been attempted, between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, within my knowledge, compares with it!

I congratulate you. I wish you and all the editors responsible for it a greater future success.

GEORGE E. BRADLEY.

"Remarkable Achievement."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: Please accept our heartiest congratulations upon the most remarkable achievement in journalism contained in your Fiftieth Anniversary Edition. The edition is made up of volumes of the most valuable information and historical data and should be preserved by every household in bound form for future reference and review. I have long been a reader and admirer of the Post-Dispatch, especially the editorial page, which is inspiring and fundamental in the presentation of its views.

W. L. Bouchard, (President New-Sun Publishing Co., Flat River, Mo.)

"A Real History of Events"

From the Carlinville, (Ill.) Democrat. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch seems to have achieved the highest degree of success in its anniversary number which was published last Sunday. It contained 232 pages. It was not merely a big paper of many pages. It was a real history of events in the mid-west during the past fifty years. The management have reason to be proud of their accomplishment.

LEONARD MATTHEWS

100 YEARS OLD TODAY

More Than 65 Relatives to Attend Supper in His Honor Tonight.

Leonard Matthews of 5447 Cab-anne avenue, who is celebrating his one hundredth birthday today, arose at 6:30 o'clock as usual and,
after an early breakfast, began receiving the congratulations of members of his family. Neighbors called to pay their respects and express a wish for many happy returns of the day.

The centenarian was in the best of spirits and health. He has succeeded in checking a cold that threatened for a time to interfere with his birthday celebration. One of the first things he did this morning was to go out into his garden. The Matthews home and grounds have long been known for their beautiful flowers and shrubbery.

At 6:30 this evening more than 65 relatives will gather for a buffet supper. Among those who arrived from out of town yesterday are: E. O. Matthews, Nogales, Ariz., a son, and his wife; Mrs. W.
L. Chambers, Rolla, Mo., a daughter, and her two children; Mrs.
Saunders Norvell, Larchmont, N.
Y., a daughter, and her husband;
Edward Norvell, Indianapolis, Ind.,
a grandson, and Mrs. Norvell; Mrs.
Prather Knapp, Chicago, a granddaughter; Mrs. Ray Wiese, Quincy, Ill., a granddaughter, and her husband, and Howard Werner,
Houston, Tex., a grandson.

Matthews has four sons, three daughters, 27 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. He recently published a book of recollections. His business career, which began before the Civil War, ended with his retirement in 1908.
He was engaged in the wholesale drug business and in investment banking.

A gift of flowers was received by Matthews from Mrs. John C.

Dent of Carthage, Mo., who is 97

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Miss Hazel Cecilia Arth of Washington, D. C., and Donald Norris of Pasadena, Cal., last night were adjudged winners of the Second National Radio Audition sponsored by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

Each received $500 in cash, a gold decoration and a two-year scholarship in a leading American university.

Other winners were Dove Irene Kilgore, Oakland, Cal., and Kenneth D. Hines, Buffalo, N. Y., second award of $2000 cash and a one-year scholarship each; Anna Mae Chandler, Fayetteville, Ark., and Wilfred A. Engleman of Detroit, Mich., third award of $1000 cash and a one-year scholarship each; Gladys Morrison Ball of Kansas City, Mo., fourth award of $500 cash each; Carmen Rosell and Ernest P. Ferrata, both of New Orleans, fifth awards of $250 cash each.

60,000 Entered Competition.

The 10 finalists, five young men and five young women, were the survivors among 60,000 who took part in the preliminary and semifinal contests.

The sectional contests were judged by the radio audiences, but the final contest was decided by a vote of seven well known singers and teachers.

The final group of judges consisted of Miss Louisa Homer, Giovanni Martinelli, Yeatman Griffith, Josef William Mengelberg, Dr. Tertius Noble, George Fergusson and Pierre V. R. Key.

The program was broadcast by WEA-F and 29 other stations of the National Broadcasting System.

Miss Arth, winner of the first prize for girls, is a contralto. She is 25 years old, eldest of the 10 contestants. Her father, the late John W. Arth, was a member of the United States Marine Band for 30 years.

While still in her teens she sang in several church choirs in Washington and for several years has been soloist at the Shrine of the Sacred Heart in the national capital.

Both Competed Last Year.

She competed last year, but was eliminated in the semifinals. "The song she sang last night, 'Mon Coeur a Ta Voix,' from the opera 'Samson and Delilah.' She was the first singer on the program.

Novis, like Miss Arth, was brought up in a musical family, his father being soloist in the St. Louis Christian Science Church at Pasadena. He is a lyric tenor.

He is 22 years old, a native of Hastings, England. His parents brought him to this country when he was a baby, settling first in Canada before finally making their home in California. He is a student at Whittier College, where in addition to singing in the Glee Club he plays football, as he did at Pasadena High School.

Novis also competed last year, being eliminated in the sectional finals, by Ted Roy of Corvallis, Ore., who subsequently won second place in the finals.

Novis sang "La Reve," from "Manon," last night. He was seventh on the program.

ARMY PLANE SEARCH FOR MISSING PAIR ON CANOE TRIP

Secretary of War Orders Effort to Find Glenn Hyde and Wife in California.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Major-General John L. Hines of the Ninth Corps Area at San Francisco, was directed today by Secretary of War Davis to search by airplane through the Colorado River Canyon from Bright Angel Trail to Needles, Cal., for Glenn Hyde and his wife of Hansen, Idaho, who started down the Colorado River in a boat two months ago.

Representatives Smith and French of Idaho had transmitted to the President the request of citizens of Hansen and Twin Falls for airplanes to be used in the effort to locate the couple.

Relatives and friends said the two had not been heard from since Nov. 20, and they feared they might be stranded at some point along the river. Gen. Hines was instructed to use all the planes necessary and to report to the War Department in Washington by radio.

Two of the machines—damaged to the extent of $1500—were the property of Isaac Sievers, a commercial photographer living at 4154 Lafayette avenue. Sievers also lost $1000 worth of photographic supplies in the fire.

An automobile belonging to Miss Elsie Smith was damaged to the extent of $500.

BROMO QUININE

Quick relief for COLDS since 1889

"Blow Hard, Skinnay"

When children bring home "bad" report-cards from school, don't blame them without further inquiry. Find out if their nervous energy is being drained by a cold, if their attention in the classroom is being distracted by their own coughing and sneezing. More important still, make certain that they do not blow the nose too hard, or the infection may spread to the sinuses and Eustachian [ear] tubes. And above all, don't wait for the cold to develop into a serious illness. Before it can become grip or "flu," use GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Millions take this intelligent precaution at the very first hint of a cold—headache, fever, sneezing, dryness in the nose or throat, loss of appetite, or a vague feeling of general discomfort. Thus they either side-step the cold entirely, or throw it off quickly, aided by the powerful tonic and laxative benefits of this thirty-nine year tested remedy.... There is only one genuine GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Make sure of getting it by emphasizing GROVE'S when asking for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

"HOW I WISH I COULD HAVE HAD KONJOLA SOONER"

St. Louis Lady Tells How New Medicine Triumphed After All Else Had Failed.

"O, that I could have had Konjola sooner!" How frequently this thought is expressed in the spoken and written endorsements of this celebrated medicine, by those who have found in this super-compound their first and only relief from the pangs of suffering and disease.

MRS. ZELLA PIERCE.

Only a few weeks ago this amazing medicine was introduced in St. Louis, but already the news of its victories over the most obstinate cases has spread far and wide; daily throngs gather at the Walgreen drug store, 515 Olive street, where the Konjola Man is explaining how and why Konjola succeeds when all else fails to give relief in cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, and in nervousness and kindred ailments. Konjola is pre-eminently a medicine of performance, not promises. Its 32 ingredients, working together and individually, go to the seat of the trouble; the very source of the disease. Only a medicine that does this is worthy of the name. Konjola is not concerned with mere temporary relief; the mission of this modern remedy is to restore new and abundant health, lasting and glorious. The files of Konjola fairly overflow with experiences like that of Mrs. Zella Pierce, 3804 A St. Louis avenue, St. Louis. Beaming with newly found health, happy to be free from suffering, Mrs. Pierce said to the Konjola Man a few days ago:

"O, that I could have had Konjola sooner," she exclaimed. "I was so ill and discouraged that I was on the verge of giving up my efforts to escape from the ill that beset me. First I had stomach trouble, and then my kidneys and liver became affected. Black spots danced before my eyes. I had frequent dizzy spells, and bilious attacks were severe. After every meal, no matter what I ate, my stomach filled with gas and my heart, under the pressure, beat wildly. My nerves gave way as the result of all this suffering, and my general condition was very bad. I tried this and that, all kinds of medicines, treatments and tonics, but nothing touched the spot. I got worse constantly, instead of better, and the future looked dark indeed."

"I was attracted by the many glowing endorsements of this new medicine, and fell to wondering if it could help me. Was any medicine worth a trial in my case? I finally determined to find out for myself, and I started on Konjola. To my astonishment and delight the very first bottle revealed to me that at last I was on the right road; that at last I had found the medicine I should have had in the first place. Steadily, rapidly my condition improved. Digestion was restored, my kidneys and liver were regular, and my nerves became calm. In three weeks I was completely well, and since then Konjola, acting as a tonic, has given me strength and vigor. I never again expected to have Konjola in all and more than I claimed for it. I can understand why Konjola is known as the medicine with more than a million friends."

Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-dulling drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals—it needs no such ingredients. Konjola is a remedy that Nature herself might have commanded. Konjola brings health to old and young alike; it is the medicine for all the people.

The Konjola Man is at the Walgreen drug store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis, where he is meeting the public daily, explaining the amazing merits of this super-medicine. Konjola is sold also at the Walgreen drug store in East St. Louis. Free samples given.

ELINOR WYLIE, POET AND NOVELIST, DIES

Had Been Ailing Since Fall Suffered in London Last Summer.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Elinor Hoyt Wylie, poet and novelist, who figured in a sensational Washington elopement a quarter of a century ago, died last night of a paralytic stroke.

A fall, which she suffered in London last summer was thought to have contributed to the cause of her death. Since then she had occasionally suffered from high blood pressure, but was apparently gaining strength. Saturday she visited her publisher and was engaged in preparing a book of poems for publication in the spring.

Miss Wylie (Mrs. William Rose Benet), was born in Rosemont, Pa. She was the daughter of Henry M. Hoyt of Washington, who was Solicitor-General under President Taft.

In 1904 she married Philip S. Hichborn, son of Rear Admiral Hichborn. Four years later she eloped to Corsica with Horace Wylie of Washington. Hichborn died. Wylie's wife obtained a divorce and Mrs. Hichborn married Wylie. In 1919 she divorced Wylie and came to this city where she began her literary career.

She gained recognition almost at once with her first two volumes of poetry, "Nets to Catch the Wind" and "Black Armour." After she published her novels, "Jennifer Lorn," "The Venetian Glass Nephew" and her greatest success, "The Orphan Angel."

In 1923 Miss Wylie married William Rose Benet, himself a poet. Beside her husband she leaves a son, Philip, a senior at Harvard. Her pen name was Elinor Wylie.

TRIAL OF THREE BIGGER MEN FOR PRICE MURDER CONTINUED

Judge Sets Jan. 7 as Date for Hearing Case Against Newman, Wooten and Simmons.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MARION, Ill., Dec. 17.—Trial of Art Newman, Freddie Wooten and Riley Simmons, Birger gangsters, for the murder of Mrs. Lory L. Price, wife of a State highway patrolman, who was also murdered by Birger gangsters, was continued until Jan. 7, when it was called for hearing today before Circuit Judge Hartwell.

The continuance was taken by consent of both sides, the defense consenting because Wooten had failed to provide himself with counsel and the State, because the new State's Attorney, Roy Brown, had not had time to study the case since he took office on Dec. 2. Judge Hartwell appointed William H. Fowler of Marion as Wooten's attorney.

Leslie Simpson, a fourth defendant, has pleaded guilty. Mrs. Price and her husband were kidnapped from their home in Marion on January 17, 1927, and put to death presumably because of the activity of Price in trying to solve a bank robbery in which Birger gangsters were involved.

MEXICO WANTS TO DISCUSS IMMIGRATION WITH U. S.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17.—The Foreign Office yesterday told the Mexico City press that it hoped the matter of Mexican immigration into the United States would be submitted to discussion between the two Governments before the Harris bill was enacted into law. The bill, which limits such immigration, has been approved by the Immigration Committee of the United States Senate.

The Foreign Office suggested that a mixed committee of experts be created to study the problem.
DICKENS MSS. BRINGS $37,500
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Dec. 17.—After a strong bidding duel between representatives of Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach and Gabriel Wells, noted book collectors, at Sotheby's auction rooms today, Dr. Rosenbach obtained five pages of the original manuscript of "Pickwick Papers" by Dickens for £7500 (approximately $37,500). The manuscript, containing 132 lines, deals with the midnight meeting of Arabella Allen with Mr. Pickwick and Mr. Winkle in the garden.

Experts explain that nothing pleased Dickens more than to give to his friends parts of his original manuscripts. That accounts for a work like "Pickwick" being divided. It is believed that about a twentieth of the original manuscript is in existence. The section sold today was presented by Dickens to John Marvell Whiteley of Halifax, and was placed on sale at the instance of his grandson, G. Whiteley, of Old Felixstone. The Whiteley manuscript begins with the departure of the coach from the Bush Hotel carrying Pickwick, Winkle and Sam Weller to Clifton Down, and runs on to the scene where Arabella pleads with Pickwick.

$5,000,000 for Postoffice Deficit.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—President Coolidge recommended to Congress today that it make $5,000,000 available to the Postoffice Department to care for its 1929 fiscal year deficit, as estimated by Director Lord of the Budget Bureau. The deficit outlook was attributed by Lord largely to the 100 per cent increase of air mail since the postage was reduced to 5 cents an ounce last Aug. 1. The last Congress provided $6,430,000 for the air mail service.

MADISON ELIMINATE MILLERS FROM NATIONAL SOCCER CUP SERIES

ABSENCE OF STAR FORWARD FAILS TO HALT BURKE'S ELEVEN

By Dent McSkimming

Splashing through mud and water as though it were an aid instead of an impediment, the Madison soccer team yesterday scored a smashing 4 to 1 victory over the Ben Millers in their first round match in the national cup series. None but athletes in fine physical condition could have accomplished what the Madisons did yesterday at Sportsman's Park, coming on with their greatest speed and power at the very close when most players would be exhausted. The Millers, after making a very good showing in the first half, broke completely in the second half under the strain of a constant offensive by the Madison forwards. All goals were scored in the second half. About 2000 persons appeared to enjoy the match.

Although the loss of their center forward through injury and the consequent use of an untried man at a very important position must have shaken the confidence of the Madison players as the game started, they showed no evidence of being demoralized. From the very opening whistle, through each upper hand, Eddie Flavin, regular center man, could not play because of a ruptured thigh muscle, or "charley horse," and in his stead Manager Jim Burke used Dave Brancouier. Throughout the first half, Brancouier's unfamiliarity with his position hindered the maneuvers of the Madison front line and made the task of the defenders much easier than would otherwise have been the case. Although there were some narrow squeaks on each side, no goal was scored when half time was called.

Burke Makes Wise Move. Starting the second period, which was remedied by shifting Brancouier to outside left, Hanson to inside left, and Moore to center. Improvement was immediate. Scarcely two minutes after the kickoff, Hanson scored after Grenon, Worden and Moore had slipped the ball through the Miller defense. Goalkeeper Ham, in playing Hanson's shot, misjudged the speed of the ball, which slipped in the mud, as a flat stone skips on water, and bounced just over his knees into the net.

But, if that was a cheap goal, the next one was not. Joe Hand, the Madison left fullback, put the ball on Brancouier's foot and when the latter crossed the ball high, Grenon received it, eluded Vaughn and O'Hara and shot hard into the upper corner of the goal.

Defense Neglected. But the Millers were not willing to concede defeat. They rushed the Madisons at every step, carried the ball into the penalty area, and on a mixup in the goal mouth, Crook scored. Another tally would tie it, and the Millers put every effort into the attack. But this time the Madison defense was not so weak. The Madison forwards, giving the Madison forwards a better chance to score.

Fink and Gockel, breaking up a move by Nash and Mulroy, sent the ball quickly to Grenon. Three well executed passes by Grenon, Worden and Moore gave Hanson possession with an open goal before him and he made good beyond all doubt. Just before the close, an offside was called against Moore, who had shifted to outside right. Vaughn's kick was blocked by Grenon, who wasted no time in cutting straight for the goal and driving the ball past Ham for No. 4.

Whether Flavin will be ready for the next cup game is a matter of speculation. A severe "charley horse" is very stubborn. It is probable that he will not be able to play against the Chicago Bricklayers on Christmas day. He was injured two weeks ago.

Next Sunday, the Tablers oppose the Welltons in their cup game. The winner probably will be drawn against the Madisons in the second round, although this has not yet been definitely determined.

Rain which fell throughout the game made the ground extremely slippery and falls were frequent but not dangerous. Only one player was injured sufficiently to necessitate the calling of time. Bolan was kicked in the head in the melee which resulted in the Miller goal.

One reason why the Madison attack was fast and dangerous was the fact that the "one-time" pass was used. No player tried to

WILLIAM MULDOON, REAL IRON MAN

Life Story of the 83-Year-Old Athlete and Trainer

The Conditioning of John L. Sullivan for His Bout With Kilrain Was Largely a Battle Between Muldoon and the Champion.

By Ed Van Every.

Of the New York Evening World Sport Staff.

CHAPTER II.

SULLIVAN, after his battle with Kilrain, which was fought in a temperature of well over 100 degrees, and which lasted two hours 16 minutes and five seconds, said that the fight was not so hard for him, but that he wouldn't go through such another hell of training as he lived through under Bill Muldoon, not for all the titles in the world. And the next time he fought, he was true to his word concerning the loss of his conditioning, and his title passed to James J. Corbett.

On a somewhat soggy course, Muldoon turned in a 74 for the first 18 holes of the qualifying round, against the 70's of Smith, Loos and Gayer. The next 18 he did in 68, shattering the course record of 63. The first round of the championship ship flight saw him turn in another 74. He was troubled somewhat on the final 18 by his putting but came in with a 75.

"Wild Bill" Muldoon, winner of the recent $2500 Grouse open, quit on the seventeenth hole of the first championship round yesterday morning. He had a score of 71 for the round and a total of 217 for the 54 holes when he was called out. John W. Dawson of Chicago won the amateur first prize with a score of 204.

Concordia Seminary will meet the Baker University cage team of Baldwin, Kan., tomorrow night at the St. Louis University Gymnasium, on West Pine street west of Grand avenue. It will be the second game of the season for the local team and the third game of a barnstorming trip scheduled by the Baker team for the Christmas holidays.

Concordia displayed only flashes of good form in its game with Illinois Wesleyan last Saturday night. In losing to the champions of the Little Nineteen, however, the Seminary were handicapped by injuries and the lack of practice.

"Mag" Reinke, captain of the Concordia five, was injured when he collided with Rhoads, the captain of the visitors but is expected to play in tomorrow night's tilt. Wetzel, husky center of the Seminary, was described as floating cartilage in his knee, played more than half the game with apparently no ill effects, is expected to start at once. Schmidt, who led his team in scoring, will take care of one of the forwards and will have Dan for his running mate. Either Dohlsheim or Stein will start at back guard.

The visitors have a team built around one veteran, "Sidney" Young, center and leading scorer of the Baldwin quintet last year. Kermit Lange, 190-pound fullback of the Wildcats championship football team will start at back guard. Another letter man, Kleiman, will play left forward. Coach Ralfoer Jeffery is undecided whether he will start John Keohane or Glenn Probst at the other forward position.

Underhand Shot Is Most Natural but Easily Blocked

THE underhand shot is the natural shot for the basket. The head is up with the eyes on the ball, and the arms are extended forward with a bodily follow through. In the early days of basketball, the underhand shot was the standard way of shooting. It is the natural throw. It fell into disfavor with the coming of the overhead shot. Now it is coming back into use with this change—instead of making it a lift shot an upward wrist snap is used exclusively. Suffice to say that while it is a natural shot, the present-day defense is so good that it will block most of these underhand shots.

"Training Worse Than the Fight"

THE POST-DISPATCH reporter, in his second chapter of "The Life of William Muldoon," the "car of boxing in New York, now 83 years old, never submits to an interview, and this story was written by Ed Van Every of the New York Evening World Sport Staff, who has been close to the veteran athlete and trainer.

In Muldoon's conditioning of John L. Sullivan for the championship fight with Jake Kilrain, Sullivan frequently got so mad over the hard work forced on him that he would not speak to Muldoon for days. The training is described as much more rigorous than the battle with Kilrain and so tough that Sullivan could not have gone through it again. But it brought him back from physical ruin.

When it seemed that John had been taxed until he could not be made to move another step, ingenuity was exercised to keep him from sitting on a fence rail and watching the Sullivan party lumber by. Muldoon would start to break down, and at this sign, Sullivan would let loose a bellow of rage and stamp and snort as he plunged on vowing that he would not be defeated. Muldoon would break down, and at this sign, Sullivan would let loose a bellow of rage and stamp and snort as he plunged on vowing that he would not be defeated.

Muldoon led the way as peacemaker, stern and stalwart and decked in tight-fitting gray wool suit, a breeches, gray stockings and a flannel shirt. Twenty-five feet or so in the rear, with Cleary by his side, came the great John L. wearing a ferocious frown and a pair of trousers which did not match, and which he had been forced to pick up in town at his own expense. One had been left back in the on Muldoon's orders.

Sullivan looked more like a sullen, burly tramp than the champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, though by now he had reduced from 240 to 200 pounds of solid fighting flesh and bone and the fine muscles of his back and shoulders played through his too snug-fitting jacket. "As though he snakes were concealed beneath," gripped in his hand was a black-thorn stick that was said to be a couple of miles Sullivan was ready to lead the rest of the way, but he was never permitted to slow down to an easy walk, and before the first hour of going was over the champion was in an intensely early mood and threatened to over and over again that he would not stand it and that they were killing him. ARMOUR WINS; JOPLIN GOLFER TIED FOR THIRD

By the Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 17.—Tommy Armour, Washington, professional and 1927 American champion, today was richer by $750 as the result of winning the Sacramento $2500 open tournament. He turned in a 239, one above par, for the 72 holes yesterday and showed his gallery some of the finest golf ever seen here.

In second place was Johnny Golden of New Jersey with 273. T. Harry Cotton, London professional, played a brilliant game after a rather poor start in the opening round and likewise encountered some tough breaks in the final 18 holes, but ended up with 296 for third place. Golden's share of the money was $490 and Cotton received $230.

Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., and Eddie Loos of Pasadena, brought in scores of 297 each to share fourth place and each received $187.50. Mort Dutra of Tacoma, Willard Hutchison of Pasadena and Ed Gayer of Chicago followed with scores of 300 each.

On a somewhat soggy course, Armour turned in a 74 for the first 18 holes of the qualifying round, against the 70's of Smith, Loos and Gayer. DO YOUR CHRISTMAS MENU PLANNING NOW Goose, Roast Pig, Ham, Turkey, Chicken, Roast Beef to Select From.

"Do Your Christmas Menu Planning Early" might be added to the well-known slogan which the merchants sponsor—"Do Your Christmas Shopping Early."

Holiday foods lists should have a place along with holiday shopping lists and it is safe to believe that the majority of housewives realizing that much of the holiday shopping will find their way into the dietary during Christmas, arrange for the inclusion of fruits and vegetables which will balance these sweets and other heavier foods.

The Christmas dinner of European origin calls for a menu far beyond the expectations of any American homemaker.

The cooks, for in those days the families of even meager means could afford help, began preparations for the Christmas feast a month or so in advance. Cakes and pies, puddings and mince meat and goodies known what else was concocted and stored for the great event; and after the feast, everyone was decidedly uncomfortable due to overeating.

Today we enjoy our Christmas holiday not as a day of feasting, but one of enjoyment and true Christmas spirit. It is a day of happiness rather than feasting, and so the Christmas menu, although very old fashioned in origin, may be made particularly simple and modern for the day.

A plan or work schedule will assist you in keeping the day as a true holiday. A menu as described below, while a real feast, is one that will delight yet not overburden the busy hostess.

Fruit cocktail
Baked ham with apricot glaze
Mashed sweet potatoes
Baked white potatoes
Buttered brussels sprouts, Creamed carrots and peas
Celery Olives, Pickles
Hot rolls, butter
Lettuce salad with mayonnaise dressing
Plum pudding, hard sauce
Mince pie
Mints, Nuts
Coffee, Tea, Milk

In going over the menu carefully you will note that the dishes are all very simple—no dish that is new or that has not been tried. For the fruit cocktail, any assortment of fresh or canned fruits with combination of oranges or grapefruit, or if desired, the grapefruit cocktail may be served.

For the baked ham, use the following recipe:

Boil a 10 or 12 pound ham 10 minutes, then simmer three hours. Take from water; remove skin from two-thirds of ham, leaving one-third on shank end. Bake slowly for one hour, fat side up. Baste with mixture of one cup pineapple juice, one cup ham liquor and one teaspoon of mustard. For the apricot glaze, wash and soak one pound of apricots over night, using two and one-half cups of water for cooking. Put on to boil and cook gently until apricots begin to look transparent. Remove one and one-half cups of the apricots, put through sieve and spread over the baked ham. Sprinkle lavishly with brown sugar. Return ham to oven and continue baking without basting until the ham is done. This will require about three-quarters of an hour to an hour's baking. The apricots should be removed from the syrup in the sauce pan and the syrup reduced to less than one-half. Then the apricots should be cooked until they have a glazed appearance, but still keep their shape. Place the baked ham on a large platter, surround with the apricot halves and garnish with parsley.

The mashed sweet potatoes are prepared in the same manner as are mashed white potatoes. To make them more attractive pile the potatoes high in a casserole and sprinkle with bits of marshmallows, then return to the oven until the marshmallows are crisp and golden brown.

Brussels sprouts may be purchased canned and carrot, peas, which is a very every-day dish, needs no recipe.

Olives, pickles, mince, rolls, butter need but to be bought at the shop. The mayonnaise dressing may, with propriety be the commercial article and the plum pudding comes canned.

The things that require making in the dessert course are the hard sauce for the pudding which is made by creaming butter and sugar together and adding either vanilla, lemon or rose flavoring and the mince pie. No housewife needs to be fearful of her pie crust going wrong these advanced days as pie crust making can also be purchased canned and the only thing needed to make a flaky pie crust is to follow instructions on the outside of the can.

FRUIT ICE-CUBES INTRIGUE

They Are a Pleasing Addition to Any Iced Drink.

Pour the juice from the can of grapefruit into the ice cube compartments of the refrigerator. When completely frozen, unmold and serve in iced tea or ginger ale. These fruit ice cubes take the place of ice, lemon and sugar. Even the best new drink tastes better when there's something to nibble with it.

GINGER ALE IS A BASIS FOR COCKTAILS AND PUNCHES

Fancy Mixed Soft Drink Recipes Are the Demand of All Hostesses.

Ginger ale cocktails and punches are especially appropriate for holiday serving. These drinks are easily made and are always appealing on account of the zest which identifies all eatables and drinks seasoned with ginger.

MAKE ENGLISH SPICED BEEF FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON

The Real English Way of Preparing This Famous Christmas Meat.

Take four pounds of top round carefully rolled. Place the meat in cold water to cover, adding a small cupful of vinegar, a sliced onion, two teaspoonfuls of salt, a cupful of chopped celery, a pepper (seed cone removed), a sliced carrot, a leek, a bunch of parsley, a teaspoonful of mixed spices, a salt-spoonful each of white and red pepper, a chopped apple, a teaspoonful of mixed spice, half a bay-leaf, a teaspoonful of cloves, a sliced lemon and a half teaspoonful of curry powder.

Cover closely and cook until the meat is tender. Lift it to the crock and boil down the liquor one-third, then strain it over the meat. Turn the meat in the marinade two or three times a day until the meat is used. In cool weather the meat keeps for a week, sometimes longer.

After slicing for two or more meals, what is left may be chopped and reheated in the marinade.

IT'S TIME TO MAKE THE PLUM PUDDING

Housewives Pride Themselves on Making This Delectable Dessert.

The Christmas pudding must have its place, both by reason of tradition and flavor. Whether this be a plum pudding of the old-fashioned type; a fruit pudding of the gelatine class, or one of the steam puddings resembling the plum pudding, but less rich, is a matter for personal preference.

This Is Rich Pudding. Many people prefer the traditional heavy rich, plum pudding, and for them I am giving the following recipe which has stood the test of a great many years. It makes about two medium sized or three small puddings, and if stored in a cool place will keep for several months.

To make it, cream together one-half pound of finely chopped beef suet and a half pound of sugar. When well blended, add six beaten egg yolks and beat thoroughly. Then stir in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Mix one pound of raisins, one pound of currants and two ounces of shredded citron with one cup of flour. Add this to the suet mixture with two cups of stale, fine, dry bread crumbs, one teaspoon of ground cloves, one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of mace, and one teaspoon of grated nutmeg, one cup of flour, one-half cup of finely chopped blanched almonds and the grated rind of one lemon and one orange.

Mix and add one cup of milk, one-half cup of grape juice and one-half cup of mixed orange and lemon juice. This makes a stiff batter. Be sure that it is thoroughly mixed and then pour into well greased molds, filling them two-thirds full. Cover and steam for five hours.

These may be made now and kept until Christmas, in fact they are better if they are allowed to stand awhile before using in order to ripen and develop the flavor. When the puddings are done, remove the covers and let stand until cold. Reheat by steaming about an hour before serving.

This One Is Simpler. A less rich pudding for those who do not care for the regulation plum pudding is this Christmas pudding: Chop one cup of beef suet very fine and mix it with two and two-thirds cups of stale dry bread crumbs and one cup of grated raw carrots. Beat four egg yolks, add one and one-half cups of brown sugar and the grated rind and juice of one lemon. Add this to the suet mixture.

Mix and sift one-half cup of flour, one and one-half teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of cinnamon, one-half teaspoon of nutmeg and one-fourth teaspoon of cloves. Add one cup of chopped raisins, one cup of well washed currants, and one-half cup of shredded citron. Mix these and add to the first mixture. Stir in the egg whites beaten until frothy. Pour into a well greased mold, cover and steam for three and a half hours. Or pour into individual molds and steam one and one-quarter hours.

MINCEMEAT READILY MADE IN THE HOME KITCHEN

Few Desserts Are More Appreciated in Winter Than a Fruity Pie.

Many housewives find it an easy custom to emulate their grandmothers and make mincemeat for the holiday pies.

The process is not particularly difficult and the rich product will more than repay for the trouble and time expended.

A most satisfactory plain mincemeat may be made with this recipe:

Four pounds lean beef from neck. Cook in a little water for three and one-half hours. Remove gristle and bone and when cold chop fine. Reduce liquor to one pint and add to chopped meat. Combine with it the following:

One and one-half pounds suet, chopped fine; two pounds sugar, one pound currants, juice and grated rind of three oranges and three lemons, four teaspoons cinnamon, four teaspoons salt, two pounds raisins, one-half pound citron, shredded; two teaspoons mace, one quart boiled cider, one teaspoon cloves, five quarts chopped apple.

Cook together thirty minutes, seal in mason jars and keep in a cool place.

HOW TO MAKE MARZIPAN

A Sweetmeat Much Enjoyed by Those Who Know It.

In many parts of this country the old custom of making marzipan for the Christmas holiday still continues. It is a paste of a certain origin which resembles fondant only marzipan is uncooked and made up of almond paste.

Marzipan may be made by working together one pound each of almond paste and confectioner's sugar. Moisten and knead with two egg whites, slightly beaten, with one teaspoon each of vanilla and rose extracts. Shape in a roll, cut off small pieces and shape them to resemble nuts, fruits, potatoes, mushrooms, pumpkins and carrots. Color with color pastes, cocoa or cinnamon, and serve in miniature baskets or paper cases.

No secret, Madam ...to this delicate bread flavor

Slo-baking makes the difference . . . keeps each loaf fresh longer, too

HOW do you give your bread that delicate, unusual flavor? women have asked us by the hundreds.

Slo-baking is the answer, Madam. Nothing but long, slow baking can produce a loaf like Wonder Bread.

Good ingredients are necessary, too, of course. And we use the best that can be had. Flour from the nutritious heart of the wheat berry, for instance. Pure, pasteurized milk . . . and double the usual amount of it. Shortening as fresh and sweet as you would use in making a delicate cake.

That's why Wonder Bread is preferred by thoughtful mothers. Every slice is packed with vital food elements. There are carbohydrates and proteins for growth and for energy . . . and calcium for building sound, sturdy bones and teeth.

Indeed, the things that make Wonder Bread taste so good are the very things that make it good for you!

So won't you give Wonder Bread a very thorough trial? Try it for toast and sandwiches . . . just see how thin you can slice it. Then let the family vote on the flavor!

MAKE 3 MINUTE TEST

Toast a slice of Wonder Bread and a slice of any ordinary bread 1½ minutes on each side. See how more golden the Wonder Bread looks. Note how much more delicious its taste. This is the finest test you can make of any bread.

12,000,000 RADIO SETS IN USE IN U. S.

Federal Commission in Report Tells of Difficulties of Broadcast Reallocation.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Federal Radio Commission in its annual report to Congress says approximately 12,000,000 receiving sets are serving 40,000,000 persons in the United States. Of these 7,500,000 are sets of loud speaker volume; the others, one tube and crystal sets with ear phone attachments.

The report says the commission, proceeding under the Davis amendment to the radio act, set up a framework for complete re-allocation of all broadcasting stations which the majority of the commission members believe provides excellent radio reception on 80 per cent of the 90 channels available for use in the United States. Forty channels were set aside for stations of sufficient power to serve rural and remote listeners. The channels were allocated equally throughout the country, which had been divided into five zones. Thirty-five channels were set aside for stations of lower power to be used by not less than two, or more than three stations at the same time. Six channels were set aside for use in all five zones by stations with no more than 1000 watts power and four channels were to be used by stations of 5000 watts or two or more zones.

The commission reported its agreement on a power limitation of 55,000 watts, with provision for the use of 50,000 watts during the next licensing period in order to determine what interference, if any, would develop. Keen competition has developed for the limited number of short wave channels available for point to point service in the transcontinental field. Complications have developed in the final handling of the short wave problem because other nations, notably Canada, Mexico and Cuba, insist they are entitled to many of the waves available.

As a result of the new allocation several broadcasting companies have appealed to the courts to test the authority of the commission and the constitutionality of the radio act.

The allocation of 74 high frequency channels for transoceanic service was made on a strictly competitive basis following hearings.

CHURCH COUNCIL FOR TREATY

Congregational Body Urges Ratification of Kellogg Pact.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The Commission on International Relations of the National Council of Congregational Churches announced it had sent to President Coolidge and Senator Borah, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, a resolution urging ratification of the Kellogg-Briand treaty without reservations. The resolution stated that "any considerable increase in armaments on the part of any nation will be interpreted by all other nations of the world as an act of disloyalty to the greatest attempt yet made by humanity to realize the position was expressed, however, to the naval bill, which provides for 15 additional cruisers. Ideal of peace on earth." No op-
